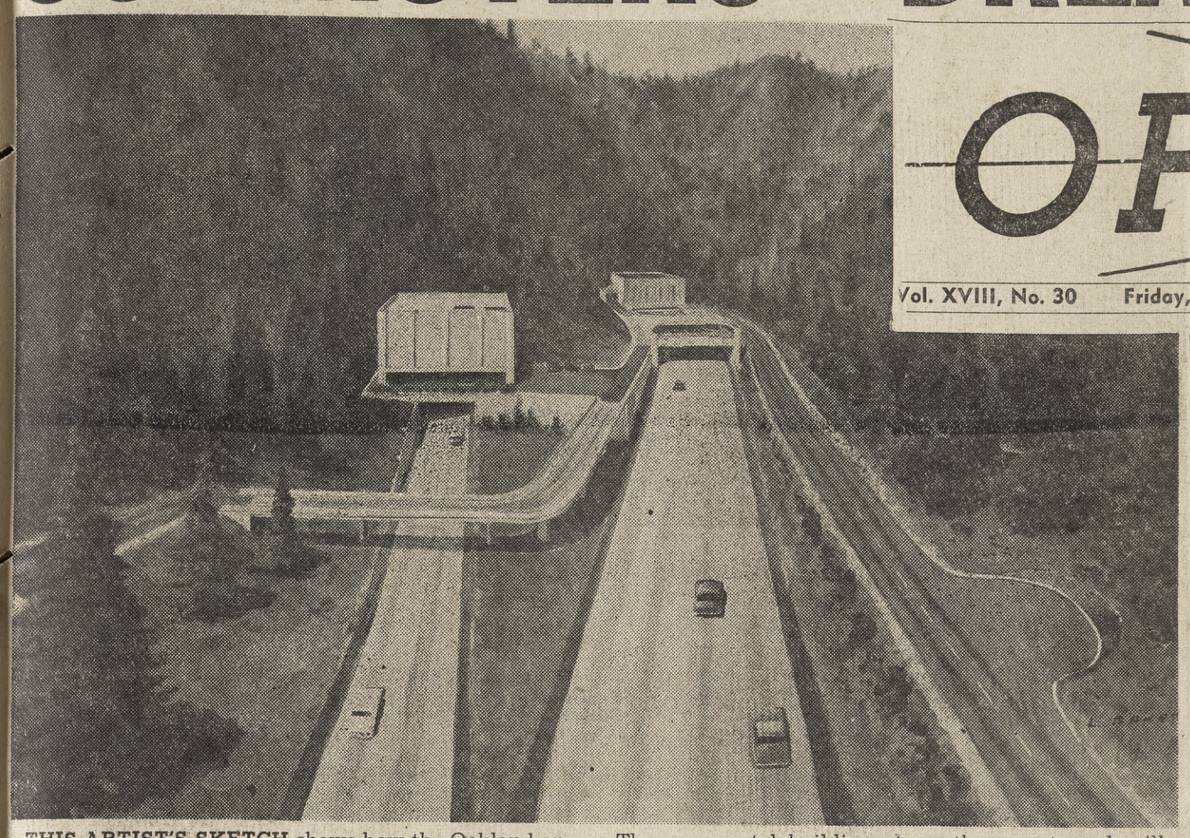
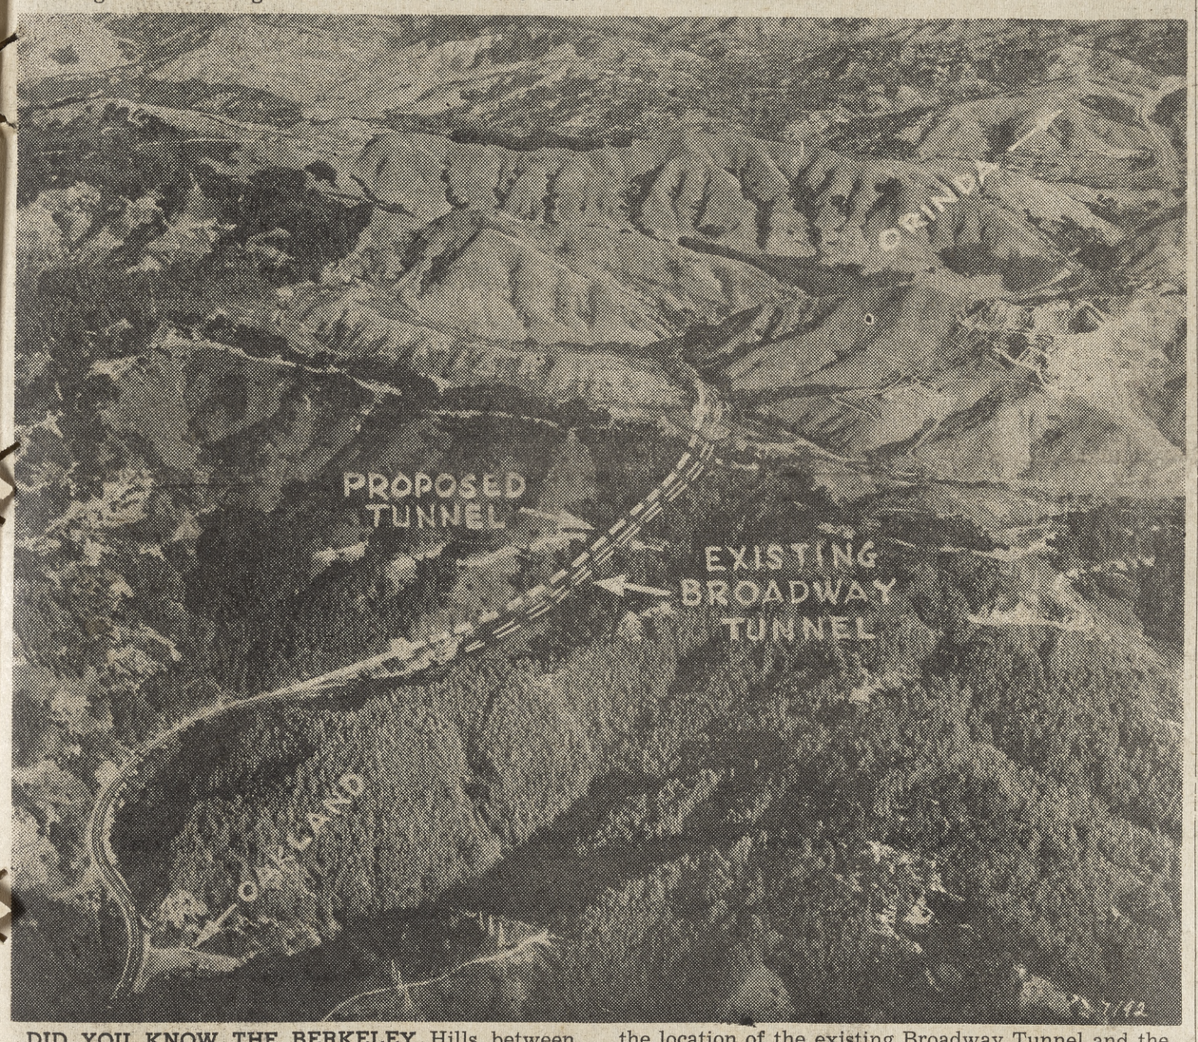
COMMUTERS' DREAM NEARS REALITY

ORINDA SUN

Vol. XVIII, No. 30 Friday, Aug. 26, 1960 Lafayette - Orinda CLifford 4-4343 Ten Cents



THIS ARTIST'S SKETCH shows how the Oakland approach to the Broadway Tunnel will look after the new bore is completed. You are looking east, with the existing bore on the right and the new one on the left. The new portal building above the new tunnel will house the controls for all three bores, and will be reached by the new service roads shown in the sketch.



DID YOU KNOW THE BERKELEY Hills between Oakland and Orinda were so rugged? It is hard to tell when you cruise along 1300 feet beneath the summit! This aerial view is looking eastward and shows the location of the existing Broadway Tunnel and the location of the new tunnel in relationship to it. Orinda Interchange is at the upper right hand corner of the picture.

Tunnel Work Will Go to Bid

State Tells Plans for Third Bore

By LARRY GLAZIER

Central county commuters will be receiving a most welcome "gift" from the State Division of Highways within a matter of weeks, The Sun learned today.

Wilfred W. Russell, a highway engineer in the division's San Francisco offices, said bids for construction of the proposed $10 million third bore of the Broadway Tunnel will be called for early in September.

RUSSELL explained the large project is scheduled to go to bid during the first week of next month, but because of the Labor Day holiday, it may be postponed a week.

The Division of Highways normally calls for bids on Mondays, he said, and because that day is a holiday next week there may have to be a change. There still is a possibility the bids will be called next week, Russell stated.

Actually, the new tunnel bore will be no gift to county residents. This year's state highway budget includes $10 million in taxpayers' money for the project.

But commuters have long awaited some relief for the daily traffic bottlenecks which are created at the two existing bores of the tunnel during peak travel hours.

CONSTRUCTION of the new bore is the subject of a four-page spread — complete with pictures and drawings — in the new issue of the highway division's magazine.

Russell said it has not been decided whether bids will be advertised for six or eight weeks on the large project, but he added that the quotations probably would be opened about November 1.

He told The Sun that small projects usually are advertised for three weeks, projects up to $5 million in value get about six weeks of advertising and that this proposal will have to be extended for another week or two.

THE HIGHWAY engineer agreed that some time has been saved on the tunnel construction by the recent movement of earth to aid in the MacArthur Freeway project in Oakland, but he said there remains a good deal of work to be done on the site before actual excavation can begin.

The new bore is to be constructed 150 feet north of the existing dual tubes, and a fourth bore proposed for some future date will be located north of the new bore.

During recent months some of the land north and east of the existing tunnel has been moved for use as fill on the MacArthur Freeway project now in progress. Ultimately, the tunnel will connect to the MacArthur Freeway via the proposed Grove-Shafter Freeway.

RUSSELL SAID that work will begin in earnest on the tunnel about the first of the year and that two additional jobs will have to be completed outside of the tunnel area before excavation will start.

He added the contract will call for a time schedule of 650 days, or about 30 months, in good weather.

First, Russell explained, the contractor will have to move dirt from the east side of the existing tunnel in order to make a level working area, and this dirt will have to be trucked through the present bores.

And secondly, a gulch will have to be formed on the west side of the tunnel area so as to provide working space for the contractor. Once this gulch is built, traffic will be detoured over it, he reported.

THE EXISTING tunnel, opened to traffic in December 1937 after a highway district was formed by the City of Oakland and Alameda and Contra Costa counties, recently was renamed the Caldecott Tunnel.

THIS COMPARISON of cutaway views shows the relationship between the new bore and the existing Broadway Tunnel. The new roadway will be 28 feet wide as compared to the present 22 foot width. Lighting and ventilation will be improved, also. All photos and drawings courtesy of the California Division of Highways and the Department of Public Works.

Pine Grove Public Hearing Is Tuesday

Association Will Oppose New Variance Proposals

The Orinda Association will be represented in Martinez at 8 p.m. Tuesday to oppose the proposed variances for the Pine Grove property.

Directors of the Association decided Monday night to back-track on their earlier approval of the requested variations for the 10½-acre property.

But, according to Vic Kingston, association president, an announcement of Tuesday's public hearing published by the County Planning Commission indicated that more will be discussed than was approved by the association.

OWNERS OF the property, the Associated Investment Company of Oakland, have announced plans to construct modern, ranch-type business and administrative offices on the land. The property is zoned A-O, or administrative offices.

The Pine Grove land is one of only three parcels in the county to be so zoned. The other two are at the Pleasant Hill Interchange in Lafayette and in Clayton Valley.

According to Kingston, the manner in which the A-O zoning ordinance is written requires that any modifications on any of the properties affect the remaining parcels with the same zoning.

WITH THIS in mind, the association's directors agreed to support the company's request for variances concerning setbacks and land usage, but stated they would oppose anyother variations.

When the planning commision's notice was published, it indicated the commissioners will discuss varying a total of six subsections of the ordinance instead of the two agreed upon.

Kingston reported to the directors that the Associated Investment Company denied having asked for changes in all of the subsections. The owners reportedly asked only for the two approved by the association.

AT ANY RATE, the directors voted to have representation at the public hearing in the Hall of Records to oppose varying any of the subsections except those which have already been approved by the association.

The property in question is located on the northeast corner of the Crossroads and extends to the property line of the Pine Grove School. The land was in dispute once before, when the Pacific Intermountain Express Company sought to construct administrative headquarters there and the community split on the matter.

Associated Investment representatives have idicated they will begin construction as soon as the variances are approved.

Commuter Grins Fade As Gas War Fizzles Out

Confirming rumors of a price upswing in gasoline, prices in Oakland returned this week to a "normal" 32.9 for regular and 36.9 for Ethyl. Ethyl is only one to two cents below normal, depending on the brand.

Following the pattern of the gas war that appears to be on the wane, prices in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Alamo were a standard 32.9 for regular at most service stations.

Dogs Are Odd All the Time--Not Just During Dog Days

By CONNIE PIKE

Dog days. The last sultry days of August when people used to think dogs went stark mad in the heat.

This belief is very unfair to dogs. They are no madder in the heat than at other times. The fact is they're pretty neurotic most of the time.

We have a nice selection of dogs in our neighborhood. They come in all colors, sizes and shapes, some purebred and some mixed, but temperamentally they are much alike.

Full of quirks..

THE NEIGHBORS are divided into two types—dog lovers and dog haters. The former are the haves and the latter are the have nots. It figures.

In general, dogs are just like people. They are loving, thoughtful, considerate, jealous, lazy, selfish—and odd.

People select dogs for different reasons. They want a watch dog to scare prowlers away, a companion for the children, a status symbol, a people-substitute or an ever-faithful friend.

We picked our dog because the neighbors had puppies.

She is a mixed breed—Australian shepherd and something.

SHE ARRIVED on Valentine's Day and a cuter bunch of white fluff you've never seen. That was four years ago.

She grew up to be a rather shaggy tattle-tale gray, but she has succeeded in keeping the children happy. She won't let anyone touch them and when we have to give them a disciplinary swat we lock the dog in a closet first.

When the children scuffle, she fills up with conflicts and can't decide whom to bite. She whines and barks and solves the problem by taking a nip at the father.

To retaliate, he kicks her lightly.

She doesn't like him.

SHE IS A multi-purpose dog who accompanies us on evening excursions around the neighborhood. We thought she came along to protect us, but when trouble comes she's always the first to run.

She comes with us because she's afraid to stay home alone.

For us she is ideal.

Once we had a pedigreed dog—a beautiful Irish setter, very high strung. All we talked about in those days was the AKC and dog shows, and he cost us a fortune in vitamins, horse meat and the well-puppy clinic.

He was very playful and we spent many nervous hours watching him lope across the neighbors' new lawns. His hobby was collecting shoes.

Once he broke out and ate a pound of poison and had to have penicillin shots and his stomach pumped.

AT LAST, when he jumped the six-foot fence and brought home somebody's pet rabbit — which he accidenally found when he stumbled over a hutch—we let him go to a hunter and I assume he worked out his emotional problems in the field.

He didn't seem to fit in with our family very well—being much too sleek and elegant.

Our shaggy white dog with black and brown spots fits us much better.

And she matches the rug perfectly.

Darn Those Evil Spirits..!

When The Sun's Connie Pike had her fortune told—and the results appeared in last week's Sun—she found that there was a dark man in her future. Possibly two of them.

But the fortune teller, located in the heart of Lafayette, failed to mention to Mrs. Pike that there was also a dark man in her OWN future.

That dark man turned out to be Chief of Detectives Walter Trawick of the Contra Costa Sheriff's Department.

AS A RESULT of the meeting between Trawick and Mrs. Dorothy B. Williams, 37, of 760 55th Street, Oakland, the fortune teller, Mrs. Williams found herself booked at the Contra Costa County jail for failure to pay a $25 per day license fee required for fortune telling.

And here's how it happened.

A young lady, whom it just so happens is an undercover agent for the sheriff's office, dropped in at the fortune teller's place of business, 3428 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, to have her fortune told. After receiving $5 from the policewoman, Mrs. Williams told her that she would have to buy nine candles for $45 and a bottle of tap water to "get rid of the evil spirits."

But the lady left and returned with two "evil spirits" of her own—deputies Arthur Hagist and James Steffensen, who promptly took Mrs. Williams to the well-known county fortune telling palace in Martinez.

COUNTY RECORDS show that Mrs. Williams' daughter, Betty, 20, paid $1200 for a palmistry license last April 5. Officials said the ordinance has since been amended and that fortune tellers have to pay a $25 daily fee.

Also, they said, each fortune teller has to purchase an individual license, which, according to Trawick, Mrs. Williams didn't have.

The fortune teller said that she didn't blame the policewoman at all for her bad luck, and tried to borrow the $105 bail from her, just to show that they were still on good terms.

The agent declined.

BUT MRS. WILLIAMS produced the cash anyway and is free on bail pending a hearing at 10 a.m. September 6 in the Walnut Creek Municipal Court.

Meanwhile, The Sun's Mrs. Pike is still looking for a couple of dark men—preferably not Trawick, Hagist or Steffensen.

Budget Finale Includes Worry About Projects

Although the 1960-61 Contra Costa County operating tax is 3.6 cents less than estimated earlier this year, Board Chairman Mel Nielsen is more worried than proud.

Lack of finances for capital improvements are his concern.

He said this week that supervisors are still considering an extra five cent tax to provide about $400,000 each year for capital improvements.

More than $35 millions worth of construction is needed by 1965, he said.

ALSO BEING discussed is a proposal for a bond issue for public works projects.

Eliminated from this year's budget, he said, were large numbers of urgently needed buildings, roads and park projects.

The new tax rate is $2.327 per $100 assessed valuation, which is 4.7 cents above last year's $2.28, but is 3.6 cents below the preliminary budget estimates.

Supervisor Bud Buchanan was the only dissenter, Tuesday, saying further efforts should be made to get the budget down to last year's level.

THE TOTAL budget is $39,733,082, and would have been $5 millions higher but for the trimming by the supervisors, Nielsen said.

Stationwagon Is Fast; Gets Pep from Sun

Mrs. Charles Hunt of 24 Parklane Drive, Orinda, sold her 1952 Pontiac four-door station wagon on the first phone call, after her want ad appeared in The Sun.

Mrs. L. J. Johnson of 1321 Sunset Loop, Walnut Creek, said she was "exhausted" after answering 30-plus phone calls after her want ad appeared in The Sun.

She easily sold a refrigerator, double bed and modern sofa.

She also had good results with another Sun ad, offering a child's wardrobe, redwood patio table, hand lawn mower, etc.

Your want ad appears on Wednesday in the Sun Shopping News, the 40,000-circulation free "shopper" in the central county, and also on Friday in the Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun.

The "5-in-1" treatment costs no more. A 14-word ad is only $1.60.

Call YE 4-5000, AT 4-4444 or CL 4-4343, and place your ad by phone.

Suburban Sea Hunt

I DREAMT I went to a swim meet in my Snorkel & Fins . . . Water babies there were all around & the crowds of spectators were waving & hollering wildly.

The recent Sunday afternoon Swim Meet between the competitive Moraga Valley & Meadow Pools left the parents & progeny onlookers LIMP, emotionally exhausted & the tadpoles of the two teams looking like keen competition for Lloyd Bridges part on Sea Hunt.

UNDERWATER AGENT: Meadow Pool's Coach Butch Fitzpatrick pep-talking his team . . . Bob Bowles of Moraga doing Recorder duties . . . Bill Van Voorhis blasting the whistle, father Phil Bush congratulating his son Philip Jr. for taking two 1st place honors in Butterfly & Breaststroke, 10 & under.

MEADOW POOL members Bob & Jane Creighton w/their dghtr. Peggy who swims a perfect crawl (She copped a 2nd place!), the Creightons relaxed from a summering at Echo Lake. Nancy Ault's Wendy toweling herself dry . . . Nancy & Gordon among the families taking the traditional stay at Pinecrest's Lair of the Bear . . . Ginger Bascom (this mother really pitches in w/church, pool & children's activities) helping to judge while her swim-teamers Barbie, Trish & Jigger got in the swim too . . . Waterskiing enthusiasts the George Talbots & their trio of boys, Peter, Ricky & Allen.

MORE FROM MEADOW . . . Team members copping two First Places were Kathy Lord, Breaststroke & Butterfly in 8 & Under, Kathy Adams, Breast & Butterfly, 14 & Under & Rondi Ayres, Butterfly & Crawl in 10 & Under.

MORE FROM MEADOW . . . Joan McCorkle wrapped in a white terry cloth skirt, the skirt buttoned up front in bright brass buttons . . . Her trio of children, Karen, Claire & Cliff. Cliff, who looks just like his father, swims a smooth stroke & has won himself a batch of blue ribbons!

The Howard Gravelles on hand w/sons Howard, Gordon & Billy enjoying the competition & good sportsmanship . . . Lil & Al Ayres telling that their dghtr. Toni has been working out daily to participate in the Country Club's coming Aquacade . . . The Tyres hibernated at Hoberg's this summer . . . Gloria Lord (this mother a mean swimmer herself) & Marty Buchter & her son Steve.

Getting in the Swim of Summer

MEANWHILE, for Moraga we had Arleigh Williams, assistant swim coach on the megaphone because, as he says, "I have the loudest voice!" . . . Coach Pete Morrissey, who returns to studies at UC in the Fall . . . Arleigh, by the way, following in his father's fooball steps, hies back to U.C. at Davis next week to put in a bit of fancy footwork on the Cal Aggies field.

THE SWIM MEET ran close, the crowds grew wild . . . the shouting shattering the Sunday silence . . . Bill Cooper beating 'em out in the 7-8 group Breaststroke & Freestyle . . . Jim Sanderson swimming a beautiful Backstroke & Breast in the 14-& under . . . Bob Kammeijer, Karen Dyers, Mary Kreick more of the Moraga champs!

Honey Dawson & her three boys, Jim, Rick & John . . . Doctor Boulware & his Sun . . . Debbie & Larry Meyers . . . Bob & Tom Ternes, Laurie Young & Gene Hart more of the kids proving their swim-pool prowess. The final score, Meadow 164, Moraga 152.

LOST IN A Mountain of bluejeans, Cynthia Stampley back at the washing machine after a week of rusticating & camping in Oregon on the eastern slope of the Cascades . . . Rich reported the trout fishing was terrific! . . . The Stampleys to stampede Aptos this wknd. w/a slew of other suburbanites . . . they to stay w/the Clarence Woowards who have taken a house together w/the Culbertsons . . .

HAPPY APTOS . . . The Ed Dougerys duck in & out of their beach-front diggings & the Cliff Benjamins have taken a roomy rental just two houses away from the Dougerys.

WITH A SEPT. 1 move to Seattle for Jack & Diane Novascone & their two youngsters, the Harrison Beardsleys & Al Rawsons are joining forces to host a Fond Farewell to the tall blonde Junior Leaguer & her husband who are making the move due to a business transfer.

IF you think that's Tarzan's Jane calling oooo-ah-ooooo-ah over in the Claremont Region, you're almost right! Or did you know by now that THAT'S the tricky way Melba Bray calls her crew home for dinner.

Another mother we know has a way of whistling through her teeth that sends the kiddies scurrying even when they're MILES away!

LOOKS like Old Home Week at Berkeley's Tuolumne Camp this week—what w/the Jack Gilberts, the Gene Garbarinos & the Ted Schillings among the happy campers . . .

The Don Zappetinis, enjoyed their Tahoe stay . . . Mike & Barbara Ferrone are glad to be home for a rest after basking at both Tahoe & Laguna Beach.

The Dan Adams cruised up to Canada & the William Scatenas are home from tooling up the Redwood Highway to Fort Bragg where the Old Salts & the salubrious Salt Air proved a delightful combination.

BACK TO ECHO LAKE went the Bert Waynes & Pat Borbridge is back at her desk at Zoe Woolseys' after a long stay w/the Lilliputs at Tahoe.

A BOUQUET of American Beauty Roses to young Susan Scholberg, who recovered Lt. Col. Dick Hale's vallet w/$62 in the till of the billfold before he even discovered its loss. Susan delivered it to him promptly. Medallions to Susan!

Deer Heads & Gentle People

ABOUT 100 residents attended last Mon. nite's meet at the Orinda Scout Hut re: the widening of El Toyonal . . . a pretty good turnout for a summer meet or any meet in this non-meeting-minded Neck of the Woods . . . The road problem, going back to the Indians, or at least some 12 yrs., has dragged on interminably & was widely discussed by community dwellers as well as county officials that incl. Supervisor Mel Nielsen, Assistant Public Works Dir. Fred Brown, Traffic-man Mark Kermit, County Engr. Lotshaw, Bus Coordinator Rasmussen & John Cheney of the Orinda Association.

EVERYONE agreed it's a hazardous route, agreed something should be done about it & then the meeting went every which way.

SINCE only a portion of El Toyonal is considered too much of an insurance risk (that section between upper Loma Vista & up to Alta Vista) it seems that a likely impersonal yardstick would be for the School Bus Coordinator to make a list of recommendations that would bring that portion of the road up to a criterion of safety & insurance company standards. Other precarious parts could be worked on piece-meal as the County budget permits but the IMPORTANT thing is to get the large school buses to run ALL the way up the road . . . SAFELY.

SITTING on the Sidelines, we wondered WHY the top county officials couldn't remember what had happened to the original $93,000 appropriated for El Toyonal some years ago. Another question left unaswered was that District Bus Coordinator Rasmussen did not have the ready info as to what WOULD bring that particularly poor section of road up to Insurance standards.

Not before Doris Scott fell off a chair & Nancy Van Dyne spoke w/spirit & sparkle, not before everyone had a chance to speak their piece, did the meeting conclude w/the decision to have a committee of area reps meet w/county officials to decide on a definite working plan. (Isn't this what we're paying THEM for?) Mel Neilsen also mentioned that since the '61 budget gets okayed this week, it would be another year before anything on a large scale can be done. If it's okayed by the supervisors. If there's ENOUGH public pressure.

MAY WE MENTION that the meeting was spearheaded by Mrs. Gwyneth Donchin, mother of SIX schoolchilren, who, we just thought of it, would look Very Valkyrie-ish w/a spear in hand, suited in silver armor, a helmet on her silver blonde head, chasing the officials.

We couldn't help being amused that the table of officials up front sat against a backdrop of mounted deer heads & flanking a big buffalo head. It just happened that Mr. Brown, the largest man of them all, sat directly below the buffalo head . . . & sometimes w/the same glassy blank gleam in his eye.

PARTING SHOT to all concerned: A shrub, a hedge, a tree can ALWAYS be replaced. A child CAN'T!

Committee Will Be Formed for El Toyonal Work

A representative committee of residents along El Toyonal and its feeder streets is being formed in an effort to convince county officials thatthe street needs widening.

Aproximately 100 persons attended a special meeting Monday night, at which county residents along El Toyonal favor the proposed widening.

FRED BROWN, deputy director of public works, told the group that all of the El Toyonal owners would have to be willing to deed the county a right-of-way in order to have the widening approved.

Leader of the El Toyonal forces is Mrs. Jerome Donchin, who said the residents want the road widened in order to provide greater safety for the children in the area. El Toyonal is the only access road for al of the feeder streets.

Mrs. Donchin reported that the Acalanes Union High School District will not run school buses to the top of El Toyonal because insurance companies will not provide coverage.

THEREFORE, she stated, the children are required to walk down the narrow, winding street and are in danger of approaching autos.

Brown explained the county has $30,000 plan for improvements on El Toyonal, but it will not be realized for at least two years because the funds are not available.

Fire Chief Pleads For Numbering

Fire Crief Al Winsor appealed this week to all Orinda residents to place street numbers on their in order to facilitate identification during emergency situations.

Winsor explained that when a fire occurs, flames and smoke usually lead the department's crews to the right home, but in the cases of first aid calls, the situation is quite different.

He said that when a non-fire emergency situation does arise, the inability to olcate the proper residence because of a lack of street numbers could mean the difference between life and death for someone.

In addition, the fire chief suggested that porch lights can be left on to direct firemen to emergency locations during the hours of darkness.

Winsor pointed out that difficult identification areas exist throughout Orinda, but that the worst areas are where residences have common mailbox locations at the bottom of hills, with no street numbers on the homes.

"In our critical emergencies," he said, "minutes are valuable, and we want to be able to get to the right spot at the right time."

Street numbers on homes could also serve to help out-of-town visitors, he concluded.

Suits Totaling $90,000 Filed

A Highway 24 crash involving two cars has resulted in two suits against Mrs. Dorothy L. Grassi, 36, of 68 Loma Vista, Orinda.

Elsie Merone filed a $75,000 suit and her husband, Ezio Merone filed a $15,000 suit for personal injuries. The Merones live at 1557 Bailey Road, Concord.

The collision occurred September 18, 1959, east of the Broadway tunnel.

Post Office Plan Is Withdrawn

THE LONG FIGHT is finally over. That pleasant story is related by Clarence Betz (right), secretary of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, to Bob Partridge, the chamber president. Betz is pointing to the brand new highway identification sign for Orinda, which includes a population count. Plans Taking Shape for Big 'Olympians' Banquet

A joint committee of the Lafayette and Orinda chambers of commerce agreed Tuesday on October 18 as the tentative date for a civic celebration honoring the central county's three U.S. Olympic swim team members.

The committee agreed that the proposed testimonial dinner will be held at the Red Mill, but decided to hold in abeyance the definite selection of a date until a determination can be made of when the trio will return home.

LOCAL representatives on the Olympic squad are Donna deVarona of Lafayette and Carolyn Schuler and George Harrison of Orinda.

The committee members are Jack Hageman, Lou Repetto and Chuck Johnston of Lafayette and Robert Partridge and Clarence Betz of Orinda. An additional Orindan will be named in the near future.

Meanwhile, the two chambers sent wires and letters to the three young people congratulating them on making the Olympic squad and informing them of the plans for the welcome home celebration.

HARRISON and Miss Schuler definitely will swim in the Rome Games, which opened yesterday, but Miss deVarona, the 13-year-old Lafayette girl, lost out in a trial for actual competition Monday.

While there are six members of the women's 400-meter relay team, only four can swim in the actual meet. Donna's time of 1:06.3 was not good enough to qualify, but she will remain in Rome as a member of the team.

Despite the loss, the Stanley School student's comment was typical. Looking ahead to the 1964 Olympics, she said, "I think 17 is still pretty young. I mean I really want to get a medal before I retire."

IN THE LETTER sent to the three youngsters Tuesday, Betz said, "We are hoping to have at least 250 people attend the banquet, and a program will be prepared in keeping with your Olympic position."

Tickets to the banquet will be available to the public. The exact price will be announced later, according to the chamber officials.

The Sun is a co-sponsor of the celebration.

As a separate celebration honoring Miss deVarona as the youngest member of the United States team, Lafayette chamber leaders are planning a Stanley School welcome party.

School officials have approved the celebration; and details are currently being finalized.

Orinda Lions To Hold Steak BBQ

The Orinda Lions Club will hold a steak barbecue and picnic for their families and friends at Wildwood Acres in Hunsinger Canyon, Lafayette, on September 25 during the afternoon and evening.

Chairman for the event is Joe Smith and assistant chairman is Mario Albo. Jack Richtiene is president of the Orinda Lions.

Committee Named For Review Of Bear Creek Road

A 17-member citizens' study committee was appointed this week by Chairman Mel Nielsen of the County Board of Supervisors for the purpose of studying the proposed relocation of Bear Creek Road.

The committee includes residents of Lafayette and Orinda as well as officials of the county government. J. D. DeCosta, chief engineer for the East Bay Municipal Utility District, will be the district's representative to the group.

CHAIRMAN of the committee will be James Moriarity of 80 La-Cuesta, Orinda, Nielsen said.

The supervisor said the committee will be asked to study all of the factors involved in the proposed relocation of Bear Creek Road. When the study is completed, the committee will present its recommendations to the supervisors.

Public hearing on the proposal is scheduled before the board of supervisors for 1:30 p.m. October 27.

Despite a number of heated protests on the part of residents in the Orinda and Lafayette areas, the County Planning Commission last month approved a route to the south of the proposed Briones Valley Reservoir for the Bear Creek relocation.

THE ROAD needs to be relocated because most of the existingthroughway will be inundated by construction of EBMUD's reservoir.

No date has been set for the first meeting of the citizens' group, but Nielsen has indicated he hopes it wil take place during the first or second week of September.

Members of the committee are, in addition to Moriarity and DeCosta, Robert Kahn, John Kennedy and Lucien Harrison of Lafayette; Victor Kingston and C. L. Blue of Orinda; N. O. Ross of Pittsburg; Edward Larmer of Walnut Creek; William Drake of Canyon.

And William Walden, Aubrey Macomber, Frank I. Pereira, Jr., and H. R. Griffith, Duane Mattison, V. L. Cline and Frances M. Pullen, all of Martinez.

Griffith is the county's principal planner, Cline is with the public works department, Mattison is the new county park director and Drake is the chairman of the county park and recreation council.

Jaycees Date Fourth Annual Swim Meet

The Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the fourth annual swim meet September 10 and 11 at the Miramonte Pool. The trials will begin at 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, September 10, with the finals 8:30 to 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

The meet is open to residents of the Orinda area or one of the following cooperating pools; Carroll Ranch, Meadow, Miramonte, Moraga Valley, Oak Springs, Orinda Park, Sleepy Hollow, and Orinda Country Club Pools.

Divisions are by age group with the Polliwogs for six year olds and under through to the open division limited to high schol students. Those interested should contact Dick Sandell CL 4-8485. The events will include freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke, freestyle relay, medlay relay all in accordance with the AAU Junior Olympics.

The swim meet will be officiated by N. M. Webster, M.D., of Orinda. Co-chairmen of the meet are Bill Nichols and Dick Sandell. Committee members are Clark Wallace, Bob Anderson, Norm Sullberg, Chip Parks and Dave McCosker.

Oak Springs Residents Fear Traffic Problems

A proposal to locate a new Orinda post office on Brookwood Road across from The Willows was withdrawn this week after residents in the Oak Springs are indicated their displeasure with the idea.

The Orinda Association revealed it had been contacted earlier this month by the project developer, Charles Coburn, an Orinda resident and Berkeley contractor, and by Lambert and Associates, owners of the property involved.

President Vic Kingston of the association reported a special directors' meeting was held August 4 with Coburn and representatives of the Oak Springs area, and the plan was initially reported at that time.

THE FOLLOWING week, however, Kingston and Coburn met with the entire Oak Springs Home Owners' Association, and Coburn indicated at that time that if there was any opposition from nearby residents, the plan would be dropped.

Kingston said that Coburn telephoned him Monday and reported he was dropping plans to submit the proposal as a bid to the United States Government.

Two other parties still are bidding for the post office project in different Orinda locations. They are the Associated Investment Company of Oakland, owners of the Pine Grove property, and Jack Snow, developer of a shopping center near Orinda Village.

THE PROPERTY with which Coburn was concerned is a 4.1-acre parcel across from The Willows restaurant, which is zoned for multiple dwellings. The property owners said that if the post office was constructed there, the apartment houses would still be built.

The developer said that he was called by the Post Office Department and was asked to submit a bid on the construction. Coburn has built nine post offices, including those in Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

Coburn told the association he wanted the approval to use one acre of the site for the post office from the Oak Springs residents before he submitted the bid.

THE AREA residents, led by Al Peterson, Fred Shimmell and William Gordon, opposed the plan because they said it would create major traffic problems.

In other action Monday night, the association directors voted to postpone action until next month on a committee proposal to realign the association districts.

Orinda Park Wins Dual Swim Meet

A dual meet was held between the Meadow Pool Swim Team and the Orinda Park 'B' team on August 18. The meet took place at the Orinda Park Pool, and the score, in Orinda Park's favor, was 225 to 112.

Twenty swimmers of the Orinda Park team also participated in the Camden Novice AAU Meet on Saturday.

Mary Lee Eldred, 8 and under girls, won first place medals in backstroke and freestyle, Betsy Moore, 6 and under girls, won a first place medal in freestyle, and Carolyn Johnson, of 10 and under girls, won a third place medal in freestyle.

The boys' 10 and under relay team, consisting of Kent Williams, David Henry, Jim Benney, and Larry Reed, also won third place medals.

Ribobn winers were Johnny Kirby, Debbie Saunders, Judy Johannessen, David Usinger, Bick Bray, Carolyn Johnson and the 14 and under boys' relay team, consisting of Marty Spittler, Steve Brush, Charles Eldred, and Jim Sanderson.

New Students May Register Now for School

New registrations are being taken at all schools in the Orinda Union School District.

Parents may register their children at the school which they will attend Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. until school opens.

Children entering kindergarten must be four years and nine months old as of Sept. 2, and children entering first grade must be five years and nine months old.

Children registering for the first time in the district must show birth certificates to register. Immunization and other health information will also be taken.

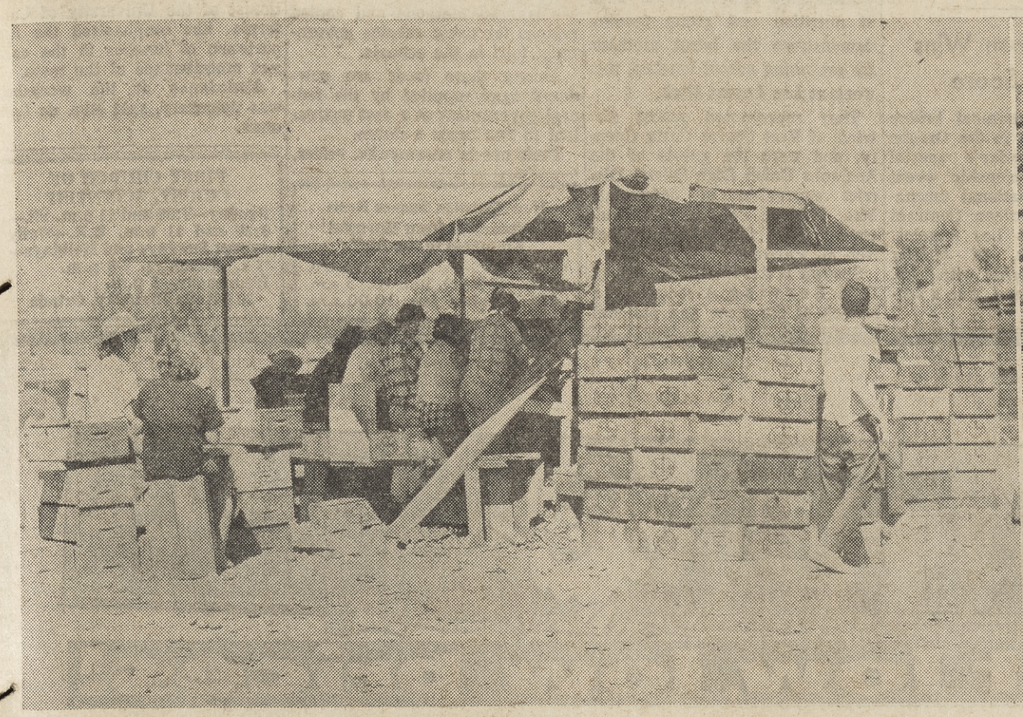
Locally-Produced Pears Are on the Move Again



ALL OF the pears produced in central county orchards must be sorted as to quality and quantity before they are shipped either to canneries or "ice houses" for storing. Bartlett pears still are produced in the Moraga and Danville areas, although most of the area orchards have been replaced by booming subdivisions.

HERE PEARS picked at the Preston Management Company orchards in Moraga are loaded on trucks for shipment to nearby canneries or "ice houses." Since canneries can only process a certain amount of fruit each day, the ice houses store the produce until needed.

PEARS OF the Bartlett variety are picked daily during the late summer months in the Moraga and Danville areas, where some orchards are left near new residential areas. —Sun photos by Mattson.

Central County Still Rich in Fruit Despite Home Building Boom

By ERWIN MATTSON

Large and small trucks with a cargo of "gold" have been cruising the local highways during the past month.

The "gold" in this case is the Bartlett pear, which is still produced locally to the tune of several thousand tons.

This is a drop from the crop of a few years back as many orchards have given way to the building boom that has hit the local area.

TWO OF the producers at present are the Preston Management Company in Moraga and the Bishop Ranch in Danville, each of which has close to 300 acres remaining in production.

The pears are harvested over approximately a month in time and are graded according to size as well as quality.

The fruit is picked in a green state and the time to begin harvest is determined by pressure tests. These tests determine the amount of sugar in the pear and this, to the processor and the consumer, is all important.

The pear, picked in a green state, ripens after it is picked. Much of the fruit is sent directly to the canneries, while some of it is sent to "ice houses," where it is kept under refrigeration.

THE CANNERIES can only process so much fruit each day and it is released from the ice house to the canneries as it is needed.

Some of the fruit is kept until later in the fall when pineapple is brought in from the Hawaiian Islands and the two are mixed with other fruit to make the popular fruit cocktail.

In addition, some of the fruit is shipped by refrigerated cars for sale in eastern markets where it brings fancy prices per pound.

Many houses have been built in former orchards, and in many cases the trees are in active production in the yard areas.

IN MANY cases this results in a surplus crop as far as the family is concerned and this results in many roadside stands with the "merchants" often the young ones who harvest and sell as a money-raising project on their own.

Elaborate and often artistic signs advertise the wares and as a result the heavily-commuted roadside do a good business and offer bargains for the seller and the buyer.

Most of the local pears are Bartletts, a species which not only produces well, but is ideal for canning purposes.

A pear which is harvested at the season's end is the Hardy, which has a dark skin and a dark meat and for the most part winds up in fruit cocktail although many prize it as an eating pear due to its rich and different flavor.

THE PEAR orchards are rapidly diminishing as land becomes of such value that it is no longer profitable to use it as orchard property.

Slowly but surely the orchards are being cut down and subdivisions can be found taking their place. The trees that do remain need pruning, spraying and cultivation as well as irrigation and fertilization.

Many residents who have a few trees fail to give them the care they need and they soon fail to produce in quality and quantity.

Properly cared for, the trees will produce for up to 100 years. But soon these pear trees will become a part of Contra Costa County's history.

Third Tunnel Bore Coming!

The new name honors the late Thomas E. Caldecott, who was an Alameda County supervisor and president of the highway district when the tunnel was built

While the existing bores have 22-foot roadways with 3-foot sidewalks on the left side of traffic, 1-foot sidewalks on the right and 14-foot, 10-inch clearance, the respective measurements of the new bore will be 28, 4, 2½ and 17 feet

The magazine article, released this week, points out that the "existing 22-foot roadways are undesirably narrow for carrying the heavy volume of fast moving traffic which now uses the tunnel."

WHEN the third bore construction is completed, the state plans to remodel the existing tunnel. All of the tunnel bores then would be operated from the new westerly portal building.

Plans for the new bore include a number of modern improvements over the existing tubes, including ventilation, lighting and traffic control.

The tunnel will be ventilated by a new type of transverse ventilation which is reported to be less expensive and at least as efficient as the older-type of transverse system in the old tubes.

In case of gasoline or other fires in the tunnel, the transverse system confines the fire to one location, while the alternative system could create a blowtorch effect and cause harm to vehciles and personnel in the tunnel area, the magazine article reported.

THE VENTILATION provides one-half million cubic feet of fresh air in the new tube per minute and eliminates exhaust gases vertically through the roof into the portal building.

Continuous lines of fluorescent lights will be placed at each side of the roadway section throughout the length of the new bore. In order to accustom the driver's eyes to the tunnel lighting, the transition sections of 300 feet at the ends of the tunnel will have extra tubes to provide varying brightness.

In addition, the sides and top of the roadway section will be lined with light green-tinted tile to give a better reflective surface and make cleaning easier.

THE MAGAZINE report also explains that television cameras will be located on the portal buildings to scan the entrances and exits of the three bores.

According to the article, "By watching the incoming and outgoing traffic on the monitors within the control rooms of the portal buildings, the tunnel operator will be able to speed up the ventilating fan before heavy smoke-producing vehicles enter the tunnels."

Television cameras are also anticipated at critical positions throughout the tunnels at a later date to provide better traffic control, ventilation and quicker detection of emergencies.

When the new bore is completed it will be used for westbound traffic, the southernmost existing tunnel will be used for eastbound traffic and the center bore will be for one-way traffic in the direction of the heaviest flow.

Dramateurs Will Hold New Tryouts

The annual tryouts for the next four productions of the Dramateurs will be held Tuesday and September 6 at Town Hall, Lafayette at 8 p.m.

A majority of the year's plays will be cast from this tryout.

The play group is currently presenting "Dark at the Top of the Stairs" Friday and Saturday evenings.

Hard to Own Bike? No! Here Is a Good Way . .

It's not hard to own a new Columbia bike, boy's or girl's.

Simply sell 10 subscriptions to The Sun, rated as one of the leading weekly newspapers in California.

The bike will be yours in a choice of the 20, 24 or 26-inch sizes.

"THIS IS not a contest," announced Herman Silverman, Sun publisher.

"Any boy or girl can win a nationally-famous Columbia bicycle in the Sun's new 'Earn-A-Bike" plan.

"It's only necessary to sell 10 new subscriptions in any combination of the four Sun newspapers — the Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun or Pleasant Hill Sun."

He added, "The boys and girls can see what the bikes look like by visiting the Sun offices at 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, or 1000 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette, and also at the Goodyear Service Store, 1231 South Main Street, Walnut Creek.

"ACTUALLY everybody wins, whether they sell all 10 subscriptions or not.

"If you sell only three subscriptions, you will receive an imported Swiss wrist watch, guaranteed for three years, and for every added subscription up to a total of nine subscriptions, you will receive an additional $1.

"The boys and girls get the bikes; their subscription money pays for the bikes and watches; we add to our already-wide circulation."

County Officials Protest Utility Assessment Wed.

The trip to Sacramento by a delegation of Contra Costa County officials to protest the assessed values placed by the State on utility and railroad company properties was postponed this week until next Wednesday.

A conflict in the hearing schedule of the State Board of Equalization was the reason given by the County Administrator's office for the rescheduling of the trip.

The delegation plans to meet with staff members of the State Board of Equalization to discuss the 2.07 per cent increase in the utility assessment totals over last year.

WHEN compared with county growth and population increase requiring expansion of utility services and holdings, the increase was termed "incongruous" by the county.

According to Dixwell Pierce, secretary of the State Board of Equalization, the board has considered the county's written protest and found the utility assessments for Contra Costa County conform to the assessments made of like property elsewhere.

Pierce said, "The board does not find any basis upon which it could predict a revision of State assessments in Contra Costa County that would bring them into closer conformity with its statewide action."

THE COUNTY had hoped the utility assessment roll would increase about 5 per cent or roughly $7,500,000 this year. County Administrator J. P. McBrien said the roll increased 5.42 per cent last year. He added that county assessed property values increased about seven per cent in both years.

A loss to the county of $1,207,260 from the utility roll between 1959-60 and 1960-61, according to Pierce, resulted from changes in the holdings and operations of the Pullman Company, Santa Fe Railroad and Pacific Gas and Electric Company during the year.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company dropped its 1959 lease of a McDonald Island gas field pipe line which trimmed another $303,540 from the assessment roll, Pierce stated.

HE ADDED that sale of the Pullman Company holdings in Richmond dropped $627,030 from the utility roll but its new owner should be assessible by the county.

Santa Fe sold some of its Richmond properties during the year and there was a general decline in the value of other railway operative property.

The increase in assessed value of utility property was adversely affected this year by these factors, entirely beyond control of the State board, Pierce concluded.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE

OF PROPERTY FOR NON-PAYMENT OF IMPROVEMENT BOND No. 65 SERIES 1956-1 ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENT WORK IN Assessment District 1956-1 OF THE COUNTY OF CONTRA COSTA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/59 Pr. 193.33; 1/2/59 Int. $75.40; 7/2/59 Int. $69.60; 1/2/60 Pr. 193.33; 1/2/60 Int. $69.60; 7/2/60 Int. $63.80. and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the county of Contra Costa, State of California proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 7th day of September, 1960, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at my office in the county court house at Martinez, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon, together with the costs of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond, together with costs of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described to-wit: Lot No. 102, as delineated and so designated upon that certain map entitled, "Contra Costa County Tract 2333, Sheets 1, 2 & 3 filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Contra Costa, State of California, on February 9, 1956 in Book 62 of Maps, at pages 32, 33 and 34. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $2513.29, Due on account of interest $337.60, Due on account of premium $125.66. Nejedly Raps Labor Attack on Welfare Fight

Speaking before the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors on Wednesday, District Attorney John A. Nejedly criticized as "unfortunate, unjustified and unreasoned" a policy statement of the California Labor Federation.

The statement objected to Contra Costa County's battle to eliminate fraud and correct abuses in the state welfare program. Nejedly directed the attention of the board to the labor organization's official statement of policies and resolutions adopted at its third annual convention in Sacramento August 15 to 19.

NEJEDLY quoted from the policy statement as follows: "The labor movement pledges full utilization of its resources to defeat the barbarous and unconscionable threats to child welfare posed by the recently accelerated efforts to discredit and weaken the aid to needy children program."

The labor group's report stated the campaign stemmed from large taxpayers associations, grand juries, boards of supervisors and chambers of commerce.

The report objected to a review of the program with a "predisposition toward its restriction or to an analysis of its cost without a corresponding evaluation of the benefits derived by the people."

THE COUNTY'S dispute with the state over welfare funds arose after the county halted aid for a Richmond woman's sixth child after it appeared she had incorrectly identified the father of the illegitimate child and then refused to submit to a lie detector examination.

The state upheld the woman and ordered her child restored to relief rolls. When the county sought a court review of the agency's decision, state and Federal welfare agencies threatened to cut off all state and Federal assistance to the county and perhaps to all 58 California counties.

The county's stand is not an attack on welfare programs nor on legally qualified recipients of such assistance, Nejedly said. The county is merely trying to eliminate fraud and abuses and thus improve the overall welfare program for those genuinely in need and legally eligible for assistance, he added.

PG&E Rates Up; Cost is 18c Month

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has been granted a $9,810,000 increase in gas rates, resulting in about an 18-cent a month increase for each home user.

The Public Utilities Commission last week granted the increase of 1.86 cents per 1000 cubic feet across the board, commenting as follows:

"The earning position of applicant's gas department is at such a level that it is not reasonable to expect the applicant to absorb any of the higher charges for El Paso Natural Gas Company's gas."

IN ADDITION to this increase, to cover increase in El Paso Gas prices which PG&E must pay, the utility is also seeking another $16,794,000 in higher rates which company officials say are necessary to meet other operational costs.

The PUC also ruled, however, that PG&E must keep books so it can refund money to its customers if the higher rates charged by El Paso Natural Gas are denied by the Federal Power Commission.

PG&E has pledged to refund the additional money if this occurs.

PG&E had asked for an additional 3.6 cents rate for homeowners and domestic users and one half cent for industries and "interruptible" customers.

But the PUC ruling was that the 1.86 cent raise apply to all alike.

Orinda Woman Wins Section Top Score

Among 764 tournament bridge players competing in the Oregon Pairs, last Thursday's special one-session championship event in the summer national tournament of the American Contract Bridge League at Los Angeles, Edith Fitzpatrick, 39 Ardella Road, Orinda, playing with Mrs. Ruth Eckler, Oakland, won a section top score.

Cafeteria Ladies Learn Tasty Lunch Secrets

More than 175 school cafeteria workers saw experts in the field of nutrition and group feeding demonstrate the latest methods for preparing school lunches, this week at Las Lomas High.

They represented school districts of East Contra Costa County, and were the guests of the Acalanes Union High School District supervisor of cafeterias, Mrs. Mildred de Laneaux, welcomed them for Superintendent Neil M. Parsons.

Sponsor is the Mt. Diablo School Food Service Association, a branch of the state and national organization.

Cafeteria managers and workers learned methods and copied recipes for using surplus government food in the schools.

Among these foods are powdered eggs supplied by the federal government at a cost equivalent to two cents a dozen.

Their use in creampuffs, cakes, egg cutlets, and rolls were demonstrated by cooks from Walnut Creek, Acalanes, Pittsburg, and Rio Vista schools.

The nutritional aspects of school lunches was discussed by Grace Anderson, clinical nutritionist of the University of California. She emphasized the importance of lunches in the care and maintenance of the teeth.

Attendance at the workshop was voluntary, said Mrs. de Laneaux.

Committees Forming in Development Association

Committee assignments were announced by C. P. Tanner, president, at the Contra Costa County Development Association's August meeting.

Other committees will be announced as new chairmen report their selections to Ione M. Booth, general manager.

Jack O. Fries, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee, charged with locating new industry in Contra Costa, reported on an organization meeting of his group held last week.

Committee associates will be Donald Lasell, Henley Worthington, Carl W. Rehfuss, Bryan Shary, Francis Pullen, Karl Ellingson, V. A. Fink, W. B. Kelley, Claude M. Stitt, Fred Sanders and Sidney Ross.

Fries said the Association's staff is now in contact with executives of several large industries which have expressed interest in locating west coast branches and are attracted by Contra Costa County's advantages.

One of them, he said, spent most of last week in the Bay Area, inspected the Ford Motor Plant at Richmond, and flew for several hours over the county's industrial areas.

Claude Stitt, chairman of the association's Water Committee, said his group will include L. E. Mullen, Gus Ostenson, Grant Burton, Frank Watson, HenleyWorthington, Lew Keading and Wes Anderson.

Worthington, head of the New Operations Committee, will be assisted by J. B. Towne, L. T. Schreiber, Walter Karnes and A. C. Latno.

Hal W. Saunders, special events chairman, announced D. M. Bradley, W. R. Thaler, J. P. Gustafson and L. E. Renner as committee members. Saunders said his committee is busy with plans for an industrial cruise along the county's waterfront, set for October 6, and a "Salute to Industry" dinner meeting later in the year in honor of new plant managers. The date has not yet been set.

E. M. Larmer announced he has selected Ted Schreiber, Howard Greenhalgh, Vernon Patterson and Ivan Goyak to serve on his Highway Committee.

W. B. Kelley, chairman of the Air Pollution Committee said his committee will consist of Jim Gill, C. R. P. Cash, Clarence Erickson and R. M. Douglas.

Judy Rae Smith, 18, 287 Cameo Drive, Danville; attended Rio Vista High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith.

Park Director To Speak Thursday

Duane Mattison, director of parks for Contra Costa County, will speak at the first fall evening program of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society, Thursday.

It will begin at 8 p.m. in room 201, Las Lomas High School.

Members will also vote on a change in meeting dates. The public is invited to the meeting.

They will take their first fall field trip to Bay Farm Island in Alameda, September 11. Lynn Farrar, field trip chairman, said the time will depend on low tide, which enables wading birds to feed on mud flats.

Guests are welcome, he said.

Boys Admitted To UC, Davis

Two central county boys have been admitted to the University of California, Davis.

James M. Buck of Walnut Creek is transferring from San Jose State College to major in pre-veterinary medicine in the college of agriculture.

A 1958 graduate of Las Lomas High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Buck of 1731 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek.

William E. Brown, who plans to enroll in the college of engineering, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Brown of 11 Meadow Court, Orinda. He is a 1960 graduate of Miramonte High School.

5000 More Students To Enroll

Contra Costa County schools will enroll about 113,500 students —5000 more than a year ago— when classes resume in early September, County Superintendent Floyd Marchus estimated today.

Schools will open September 6, everywhere except in the area of Richmond Union High School District, where the opening date will be September 7.

Dr. Marchus said he estimated the 1960-61 enrollment on the basis of a 5000 annual increase for the past several years.

The figure last year was 108,573.

Also on the basis of last year's experience, an increase of 250 full-time teachers may be anticipated. This would bring the total of full-time teachers in Contra Costa County's 32 school districts to 5200.

Three new school buildings will be occupied—Inland Valley Intermediate at Orinda, Park Junior High at Antioch and College Park High School at Pleasant Hill in contrast to at least six new schools opened annually for about a decade.

Nine were added last year, including one intermediate, one junior high and a high school.

The figure includes new science buildings at both Diablo Valley and Contra Costa Colleges. School districts, among them Mt. Diablo Unified and San Pablo, are also transferring portable classrooms to areas in which large population growth has occurred.

'Drark at Top of Stairs' Is Mixture of Pathos, Humor

By CONNIE PIKE

The Dramateurs opened last Friday night in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," their last production of the summer season, at the Town Hall in Lafayette.

William Inge's play is a combination of realism, humor and pathos, skillfully performed in its first release to a Bay Area little theatre group.

Inge's questions seems to be, "Has each of us his special patch of darkness which he is afraid to pass?"

WITH THE exceptions of Rubin Flood, sympathetically portrayed by John Anton, and Uncle Morris, who has perhaps already passed his, the characters have such areas.

From Sonny Flood who is afraid to go upstairs alone, through Lottie, who has filled her home with cats, to Sammy Goldenbaum, the unhappy boy whose home has been military schools, they all have their emotional growing up to do.

Cora Flood, the mother, attempts to hold her family tightly and wishes they would conform more. Flirt Conroy, played by Kathi Brown, is vivacious and empty-headed, but she too must eventually pass her dark space.

IT IS SAMMY, coming to call for Reenie Flood to escort her to a party who rushes them toward their moment of truth.

Sammy is appealingly played by Roger Falk, and Dave Brown and Lann Hertzberg alternate in the role of Punky Givens, Flirt's date.

Morris Lacey is humorous as the meek husband of Lottie who never has a chance to speak, and Betty Reynolds as Lottie provides some hilarious comedy in her scatterbrained way.

THE SET DESIGN and decoration, costumes and make-up are outstanding.

The play may be seen for the next three weekends and tickets and reservations may be obtained by calling CL 4-4419, CL 4-2460 or the Town Hall AT 4-9965 on performance nights.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Obituaries

Vet of Jungle Battles Killed by Light Cord

Funeral services for a tough, square-jawed Hollander, who found sanctuary in Walnut Creek for himself and his large family, were held Wednesday in the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

John Caris, 49, was electrocuted last Friday afternoon while installing insulation in the attic of the Otto Sonnenschein home, 53 Orchard Road, Orinda.

He touched an exposed metal clip on an extension cord and light, while assisting Jewell Webb of Oakland. They were installing aluminum foil-covered insulation.

THE SUN did a front-page feature story on the Caris family when John, his wife and children arrived in Walnut Creek, under sponsorship of the Presbyterian Church. This was in July, 1956.

Caris was anxious to get to work and support his family. He was aided by a small pension he earned as a 20-year veteran of the Dutch army.

One disadvantage was that he still carried the bits of metal, shrapnel wounds, from infantry jungle fighting in Indonesia.

He was a patrol leader and master sergeant in Sumatra and Indonesia during World War II, and was captured by the Japanese in 1942. He was a prisoner for three years.

HIS WIFE, Maritta, also was captured by the Japanese during the war, and underwent prison camp rigors.

The Caris family has seven offspring, but two daughters are married, and there remain just three minor children. They live at 2019 Alvarado Avenue.

The children include Mrs. Kitty Rancuret, Mrs. Heidi Thomas and John, Jane, Rudy, Richard and Sonia Caris.

Presbyterian Church members were asked by Rev. Dick Chiolis to offer money instead of flowers at the service.

There is no social security, and two older married daughters are going to help financially, church members added.

AFTER Webb pulled the light cord from Caris' hand, he summoned help from the Orinda Fire Department. A neighbor doctor also assisted.

Arrangements were made by the Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette. Burial was in the Oakmont Memorial Park, Pleasant Hill.

'Politics 1960' Discussion Groups Planned in County

"Politics 1960," an adult discussion group designed to give California voters clearer insight into the American political process and the fundamental issues of this election year, will be offered in Orinda and Walnut Creek this fall.

The Orinda group begins meeting Thursday, September 8, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ammen, 201 Crestwood Drive. Leading the group will be Robert Warwick of 5216 Desmond Street, Oakland, a real estate mortgage loan appraiser.

PARTICIPANTS in the Walnut Creek group start meeting Tuesday, September 6, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wyman, 178 Kendall Road. Douglas Scovill of 201 Astrid Drive, Pleasant Hill, will serve as discussion leader.

Scovill, an experienced leader, is a zoning inspector in the planning department of the Berkeley City Hall.

Presented by University of California Extension, the groups meet two hours weekly for a period of 11 weeks. Discussion is based on a book of readings specially prepared by two political scientists from the University of California.

SELECTIONS from books, articles and speeches present differing points of view on each major question.

Political scientists, commentators, statesmen and politicians represented in the readings include George Kennan, Dean Acheson, John Foster Dulles, Albert Schweitzer, Hanson W. Baldwin, President Eisenhower, Henry Kissinger, Martin Mayer, V. O. Key Jr., Arthur Schlesinger Jr., Robert J. Donovan, C. Wright Mills, Clinton Rossiter, and Walter Lippman.

All interested adults are invited to attend the first group meeting.

For further information and enrollment forms contact Discussion Programs, University Extension, 2441 Bancroft Way, Berkeley 4, California.

Lutheran

"Yes or No?" will be the sermon theme of Reverend Merle O. Tollefson at the 8:15 and 9:30 worship services in Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1035 Carol Lane, Lafayette, on this eleventh Sunday after Trinity. Nursery care is available for small children.

During the summer months Sunday school is conducted for only those three years of age through the third grade. Older children are asked to worship with their parents during the family worship service at 9:30 a.m.

The board of deacons will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The mid-week Bible study group will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Elsie Wigle, 1150 Tres Almandras Drive, Lafayette.

The adult inquiry class is conducted for those desiring more information about the Christian faith Thursday at 8 p.m.

Christian

Carroll Cotten will speak on the subject, "Fullness of Time" at the morning worship service of the Lafayette Christian Church at 10 o'clock Sunday.

Church school, with classes for all ages, meets at 9 a.m. Nursery care is provided during church school and the worship service.

The Christian Youth Fellowship will have a special meet at the church tomorrow for a Tom Sawyer party. They will paint the fence behind the church. Everyone bring a brush and paint container.

The Christian Youth Fellowship will hold its regular meeting Sunday at the church at 4:30 p.m.—transportation will be provided to go to Carroll Cotten's home in Berkeley. The group will study the "Parable of the Prodigal Son."

Volley ball and a watermelon feed are in store.

Baptist

The Reverend Loren Eastman will be occupying the pulpit of the First Baptist Church of Orinda-Lafayette in the absence of the Reverend Bruce H. Parker, the pastor.

The morning worship service will begin at 11 a.m. in the sanctuary located on the freeway between Orinda and Lafayette east of Charles Hill Road. Facilities for junior church and nursery care are available.

SUNDAY school begins at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all ages.

Baptist youth fellowship starts at 6:30 p.m. with groups for all teenagers.

The Sunday evening service will commence with a time of congregational singing of the Old Gospel songs and conclude with a message by Rev. Eastman.

WEDNESDAY evening at 7:30 p.m. the prayer meeting of the church is held which encompasses a brief Bible study prior to praying.

A special showing of the House Unamerican Activities Committee meeting which was held in San Francisco recently will take place September 7. This film gives an undistorted view of the danger that threatens our country through subversive elements. Pastor Parker was in attendance at this probe and heartily endorsed the committee and their findings.

Dick Goodwin, former jazz band leader, will be the featured musician at the David Laurie two-week campaign, which will begin September 18.

Congregational

"Christian Priorities" will be Reverend Chauncey Blossom's sermon topic Sunday morning at the 10 o'clock service in the Orinda Community Church. The senior choir will sing "Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken" by Haydn.

Church school children, grades one through six, will attend the opening worship period with their parents and be dismissed to their classes. Discussion will follow the showing of the film, "I Don't Want to Win." Infant care is provided.

Senior Pilgrim Fellowship will go to Cameron House in San Francisco for the regular Sunday meeting.

Members of the senior choir will have a potluck supper at the home of the Charles Nelson, 49 Hacienda Road, Thursday, 6:30 p.m.

Dr. A. O. Odegard will be the pulpit guest at 11 a.m. Sunday. He will also speak at the evening service which begins at 7 p.m.

Prayer meeting and Bible study will be held at the church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Carl Nelson will be in charge of the meeting in the absence of Pastor William Mays.

The ladies' Bible study class which has been recessed for the summer will meet again Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 9:45 a.m. for coffee time. A baby sitter will be provided.

Registrations are being received until Sept. 1 by Elaine Nelson for the C.W.A. Retreat to be held at Mission Springs from Sept. 16-18. Mrs. Lila Trotman, an outstanding Bible teacher and conference speaker, and Mrs. Ernest Christensen, a missionary to Japan, are scheduled to be the speakers at the retreat.

Christian Science

The vital significance of the life and works of the master Christian will be the central topic of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" which will be read at all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1437 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

Scriptural selections will include the following from Luke's gospel (4:40, 41): "Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he rebuking them suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ."

A correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy includes the following (332:11-15): "The Christ is incorporeal, spiritual—yea, the divine image and likeness, dispelling the illusions of the senses; the Way, the Truth, and the Life, healing the sick and casting out evils, destroying sin, disease, and death."

Methodist

"A Tent of Meeting" is Reverend John Dodson's sermon title for Sunday at the Orinda-Moraga Methodist Church. Services are held at the Miramonte High School, with worship service and church school meeting at 9:30 a.m.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet Sunday at 7 p.m. at the home of Ruth and Jake Jacobson, 172 Ardith Drive, to finalize plans for the youth campout at Big Basin. Any teenagers interested in this fellowship may call DR 6-4194 for information.

Organization of a choir is under the leadership of music director, Mrs. Jack Holzinger. An organizational meeting is scheduled for Sept. 1, 8 p.m. at 1 Crestview Drive, Orinda. Anyone interested in singing may attend this meeting, or call Mrs. Holzinger, CL 4-0456.

Benefit Planned At St. Mary's

Plans for a second annual social gathering by the Friends of the Renaissance at St. Mary's College were announced today by A. Anthony Bilotti and Felix Chialvo, co-chairmen of the group.

The gala event, a benefit for the establishment of a Chair of Italian at St. Mary's, is set for Sunday, Sept. 11, on the Moraga valley campus.

Beginning with tours of the campus at 4 p.m., the afternoon program will include a reception, wine tasting courtesy of Mont La Salle Vineyards, Napa, and a banquet in Oliver Hall.

Enrico Del'Osso, prominent Oakland attorney, will be principal speaker at the banquet. A member of the executive committee of the Friends of the Renaissance, Dell'Osso is past president of the Italian American Federation of the East Bay, past president of the Alameda County Bar Association, and is on the welfare advisory board of Alameda County.

Entertainment, featuring contemporary Italian artists and composers, will accent the events scheduled for the afternoon.

Handling arrangements for the affair are committeemen Leo Ostaggi and Mario Delucchi of Piedmont; John Pricco, Berkeley, Frank De Bellis, San Francisco, and Peter Bertoglio, Pittsburg.

Area Residents Escape from Two Big Forest Fires

Scores of Lafayette and Orinda residents were caught in the middle of a blackout in the Lake Tahoe-Reno area last weekend as two massive forest fires destroyed about 70,000 acres of scenic timber land.

The area residents were those vacationing or weekending in the resort areas. Fortunately, no personal injuries resulted.

But Saturday afternoon, in a blaze at Echo Lake which was separate from the forest fires, the summer home of Eugene Shurtleff, 570 Miner Road, Orinda, and his brother, Lawton, of 790 Los Palos Manor, Lafayette, was destroyed.

A group of alert Boy Scouts from the Sacramento Area Council's nearby Camp Harvey West was credited with bringing the Shurtleff fire under control before it spread to 135 neighboring homes and 640,000 acres of forest surrounding them.

The loss of the home was estimated at $7000. The interior of the building was completely gutted, acording to reports.

Among those caught in the Donner area blazes were the Victor Kingston and Ken Whites of Orinda and the C. R. Johnstons of Lafayette.

Local Resident Entered in Show

Lafayette horseman Jon Sammann is among over 300 entries in this year's Monterey Sounty Fair National Horse Show continuing through Sunday.

Special attractions of the show will be the pony-draw landau and Alameda Sheriff's Posse Drill Team. Matinee and evening performances are held daily.

Sammann lives at 1360 Reliez Valley Road.

MELTED SNOW

Major source of EBMUD water is the spring runoff from the great Sierra snow pack.

St. Mary's Plans Course In Public Administration

Inauguration of a new curriculum in public administration in the School of Economics and Business Administration at St. Mary's College has been announced by Brother S. Albert, F.S.C., president.

The new program, to begin with the opening of the fall semester on September 12, is designed to prepare young men for career management positions in government at the local level. It has been developed in close cooperation with local governmental officials in the Bay area.

Harry L. Morrison, Jr., assistant professor of political science at St. Mary's, will direct the program.

Assisting St. Mary's in formulation of plans and policies for the curriculum is a public administration advisory committee headed by J. P. McBrien, Contra Costa county administrator chairman, and Wayne Thompson, Oakland city manager, vice-chairman.

Committee members include Alameda County Administrator Earl Strathman; City Manager L. A. Kimball, Walnut Creek; City Manager F. A. Stewart, Concord; City Manager Kenneth Smith, El Cerrito; City Manager Kenneth Williams, San Pablo; City Manager E. S. Howell, Richmond; City Manager H. D. Weller, Alameda; City Manager Wesley McClure, San Leandro; City Manager Ray Doran, Hayward; City Manager E. R. Marriner, Pittsburg.

Also John McFarland, general manager, East Bay Municipal Utility District; John Worthington, general manager, Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District; Vincent T. Cooper, assistant manager, County Supervisors Association of California; Brother U. Jerome, chairman, School of Economics and Business Administration, St. Mary's College, and Morrison, secretary of the committee and director of the program.

Suburban Bible

Sunday morning will mark the completion of Daily Vacation Bible School for the Suburban Bible Church family and friends.

At the 10 a.m. service of the church a special program will be presented by the Daily Vacation Bible School staff of workers and the children who have attended during the week called "A Day At Daily Vacation Bible School."

FOLLOWING the service certificates of completion will be presented to the children who have taken part in the school and the teachers and workers will be recognized and introduced to the group.

Also at the 11 a.m. hour the Reverend Gray Lambert, pastor of the Suburban Bible Church, will speak on the subject "Suffer the Little Children to Come Unto Me."

Following the presentation of the certificates of completion the children of primary age will be led in special primary church services in the Veteran's Building, 3499 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, the church's present place fo meeting.

AFTER THE morning worship hour there will be a reception in the building for the members, parents and friends who have taken part in the church school.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services of the church and nursery facilities are available at all regular services of the church.

Welfare Councils Will Unite

Agreement was reached whereby the three Community Welfare Councils of Contra Costa will operate as a countywide Council following ratification by the Central Community Welfare Council.

President Superior Judge Wakefield Taylor of Martinez made the announcement.

The agreement calls for a countywide organization in order to promote the general welfare of the residents of the county.

This is planned through (1) fact finding regarding community needs and resources (2) planning and coordinating the work of health, welfare, recreation, and youth-serving agencies; (3) developing adequate community services through joint citizen action.

(4) raising existing standards of service and (5) developing public understanding of community welfare services.

After a year of operating on this basis the present plan will be reviewed by the three boards of directors and if necessary modifications or adjustments will be made, Judge Taylor pointed out.

Local representatives appointed to the County Board to represent the Central Community Welfare Council are Judge Taylor, president; Mrs. Harmon Howard, vice president; Mrs. John G. Kelly, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Jack Dana, Lafayette; Miss Lillian Wurzel, Walnut Creek; Mr. Donald Morrison, Lafayette.

The Central Community Welfare Council is a member of the Contra Costa United Crusade. Offices are located at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

The United States, according to the National Automobile Club, has about one-seventh of the world's proved reserves of crude oil, but accounts for about one-half the world's oil consumption.

Acalanes Seniors Yearbook Pictures Now Being Taken

Senior portraits for the 1961 Aklan, Acalanes High School Yearbook, will be taken through next Friday in the Deans' conference room, Mike Lincoln, photography editor, announced today. Lincoln said that the Keith Cole Studios of the Peninsula have been chosen to make the portraits.

Patsy Richardson, senior editor, stated that appointments have been mailed to students. Seniors new to Acalanes, or those unable to keep the appointments, are to telephone Patsy at school, YE 5-2600, from 9:30 to 4, or at home, CL 4-2555. There is no charge for the standard black and white graduation sitting. The yearbook staff asks that senior girls wear pastel sweaters and pearls and boys wear white shirts, ties and coats.

Faculty Advisor Betsy Pembroke stressed that photographing seniors prior to the opening of school gives the photographer the opportunity of taking much more time with each senior as well as carrying out the yearbook policy of minimum interference with academic schedules of students.

Some gardeners seem to operate on the theory that a little water goes a long way. This may be true in a land of summer rain, but not in California. Don't just wet everything down and let it go with that. Such practice does little more than settle the dust. Soak. lawns and flower beds thoroughly. Use a soaker where compacted soil and a slight incline combine to shed most of the water you would apply by conventional means.

County Officials Tour Proposed Transit Routes

Nearly 15 Contra Costa County supervisors, city mayors and planning officials were given a special conducted tour Monday of the rail rapid transit routes which have been proposed for the East-bay area.

The tour included a detailed description of the routes by engineers of the Tudor Engineering Company, one of the three consulting firms employed by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District to design its proposed five-county system.

ARRANGEMENTS for the day-long trip were made by Contra Costa County's three representatives on the district board of directors: Harry L. Morrison Jr. of Concord, Marvin A. Joseph of Richmond, and H. L. "Jack" Cummings of Crockett. Bus transportation was furnshed by the City of Concord.

Of special interest to the touring officials were the two alternative routes which were considered for the portion of the rapid transit line between Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

The district board already has tentatively recommended use of the abandoned right-of-way of the Sacramento Northern Railroad instead of a route adjacent to the freeway.

Mel Nielsen, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, asked why the latter route was not preferable.

ENGINEER T. T. Mackenzie explained that the freeway route was not chosen because it would cost $3,500,000 more to consruct. The median strip of the freeway cannot be utilized, he said, because its grade is too steep for operation of rapid transit trains, and also because the State Division of Highways has future plans for converting the median strip to additional freeway lanes.

The tour covered both of the proposed transit lines which are planned for Contra Costa County—one stretching from Oakland to Pleasant Hill, the other from Oakland to Richmond. It also covered the portions of the lines which were trimmed because of economy factors, but for which advance purchase of right-of-way has been provided in the tentative transit plan.

Tentative plans for the $926 million rapid transit system will be sent to city and county officials in the district in the near future for study and recommendation.

Among the officials who made the route tour, in addition to Nielsen, were County Supervisors Joe S. Silva and W. G. Buchanan; Mayor Frank A. Marshall of Walnut Creek; Councilmen Frank A. Billeci and Leo Hosier of Pittsburg; Concord Senior Planner David W. Baker; Richmond Traffic Engineer Martin Wallen; Contra Costa County Deputy Public Workers Director F. R. Brown, Assistant County Controller Donald Funk, and Administrative Analyist Charles Hammond.

Mrs. Lester Hink Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Bertha Marie Hink, 170 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda, last Thursday sued Lester W. Hink Jr. for divorce, charging extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Hink said her husband, vice president of a Berkeley department store, choked her and threatened her life August 15. The suit was filed in Richmond Superior Court.

She asked for restraining orders to keep her husband from bothering her and to prevent his disposing of community property.

Mrs. Hink listed community property worth $177,450, including 400 shares of stock in the J. F. Hink and Son Corporation and the family home valued at $45,000.

She asked $750 monthly support for herself and $150 a month for each of the couple's two sons, Lester W. Hink III, 17, and Timothy Stephen, 7. She also requested a $10,000 attorney fee. She is represented by Carl H. Heil of Oakland.

Hink is vice president of the J. F. Hink and Sons department store at Shattuck Avenue and Kittridge in Berkeley.

The couple had been divorced previously and remarried October 26, 1951.

GOP Women Plan Reception for Area Candidates

The Orinda Republican Women's Club is sponsoring a reception for candidates at the Orchard Nursery on Friday evening, September 16, at 8 p.m.

All members of the club, their husbands and guests are cordially invited to attend.

Candidates to be presented are John F. Baldwin, Republican candidate for reelection for Congressman; George Krueger, a resident of Concord, Republican candidate for state assemblyman; and King Parker, Jr., of Walnut Creek, Republican candidate for State senator.

Also to be present at this gathering will be Joseph Martin, Jr. of San Francisco, who is the newly elected California national committeeman.

Don't Touch County Street Signs!

Victor W. Sauer, county public works director, has appealed to the County Board of Supervisors, the county administrator and the district attorney for assistance in combatting an upsurge of sign vandalism in the central county area.

In a letter to J. P. McBrien, county administrator, Sauer said, "During the past few months, vandalism of street warning, guide and name signs has reached such proportions that it is now necessary to increase the size of our sign crews or work them overtime to repair the damage."

SEE EDITORIAL, EDITORIAL PAGE, SECOND SECTION

THE LETTER continues, "The sheriff's department has cooperated by assigning patrols to sections of the county where the trouble is most prevalent, i.e. Danville, Lafayette, Orinda and Walnut Creek, but he is also short of the personnel needed to concentrate on this problem."

Sauer suggested that supervisors and parents' and community groups appeal to parents to check on their teenage children and possible conviction of persons apprehended in the course of vandalizing the signs, which, he said, is being done by some counties in the state.

The public works chief pointed out that during a weekend in August signs were destroyed or torn down on Diablo Road, Tassajara Road, Stone Valley Road and other locations.

A TOTAL of 50 to 75 signs were destroyed, stolen or torn down on that one weekend in one section of the county, Sauer noted.

He explained that signs on the major culvert projects on Diablo Road consisted of flasher lights and barricades, which were throw in a nearby creek.

The removal of these signs, Sauer continued, left a ditch 15 feet deep and 20 feet wide exposed and unmarked. The signs were re-installed on Saturday, he stated, and on Sunday they were sprayed with red paint.

SAUER SAID that a conservative estimate of the cost of this vandalism is $1000 per month, without taking into consideration the cost of additional county personnel required by the vandalism.

This cost, he explained, must be paid by the taxpayers.

In addition to the cost, Sauer reported, this vandalism can lead to accidents which result in serious injury or death to some innocent taxpayer.

County Insurance Award Challenged By Association

The award of Contra Costa County's insurance program in a "package" to the firm of Cross and Doyle was recently made for the second year by County Supervisors, but only over protests of the Contra Costa Association of Insurance Agents.

The Association, headed by Charles Rossier, has challenged the board's method of awarding the contract, and claims it has offered the same program for less money.

Donald Doyle, partner of Cross and Doyle and also state assemblyman for six years, said the county asked him when the change was contemplated to submit a program, and he feels that it is the best program which any other firm or group has to offer.

COUNTY Administrator J. P. McBrien admitted that in the first year the Association made only limited efforts to come up with a program, but he added that the Association's letters and offers were fully examined this year.

He said in his knowledge no other individual companies other than Cross and Doyle were contacted by his predecessor, Desmond Teeter, in seeking to pick the "broker of record."

McBrien has publicly expressed great satisfaction with the service offered by Cross and Doyle, including extension of coverage and service without commensurate added costs.

McBrien, commenting on claims that the insurance could be gotten at lower cost, said, "I would recommend going on a bid basis and awarding it to the lowest bidder right now, if this were the best way."

BUT THE bid would undoubtedly go to a 'direct writer' which would not have a local servicing agent, and as a result service would suffer, McBrien emphasized.

Doyle's bid this year included complete liability coverage for $96,000, of which five per cent is agent commission.

Although the Association did not stipulate any exact figure in its offer to the county, a member, Tom Nilson told supervisors that the Association could offer the same liability coverage for as much as $8000 less.

The award of an insurance contract to a "broker of record" is a new county policy, after years of "porkbarrel" distribution of insurance policies to as many as 50 area firms.

BOTH insurance men and county officials at last agreed that such a policy was not benefitting the county, saving money nor providing the best coverage.

McBrien has already recommended, he said, that the county study the possibilities of a self-insurance program, although he is not yet sure of its advisability.

One thing, he is sure of—the county will not do well to change its "broker of record" frequently.

To answer statements that it never made a bona-fide offer to provide insurance for the county, the Association points to a letter dated June 10 to the county.

IT SAYS the letter called for the handling by a central local administration with a staff in Martinez and a committee.

Board Chairman Mel Nielsen replied in a letter a few days later asking for a mention of the compensation expected.

Rossier replied that it would be ". . . less than that received by the present broker."

DOYLE, whose home office is in Oakland, with a servicing office in Martinez, said he was able to reduce the cost of the general liability clause by $9000 this year partly because the county is no longer giving "kickbacks" to participating brokers and agents.

Doyle said he had been more than willing to cooperate with other brokers in providing the insurance program, but the recent animosities rule this out.

Miramonte Mirror

Can You Guess Who Gave The Most Parties? Read On

By ENID HENNESSY

Tom White, Diane Traverso, Dotty Potter, Sue Henry, Jonathan Jensen, Dave Rhoda and Judy Poole were only a few of the many Orindanites all set to start a party somewhere. They decided that Jim Hildreth's would be more than suitable, so the group went there. After dancing and having a generally good time, they migrated up to Cris Almond's for some more laughs.

Now that the summer school at Diablo Valley College is out, Vicki McCosker and Judy Ageno, the only two grads from Miramonte going there this summer, are going their own ways. Vicki is now working for her father and Judy is spending two glorious weeks in Twain Hart with Ginny Allen for a companion.

Another group that has hit the road to the most exciting spot to go in the summer, meaning Tahoe, of course, is the Hopkins family. Judy Hopkins, the junior, took Jane Hennessy with her for the trip. Her family went up there with the Shaws of Lafayette for a week.

Robert Boyle and Pete Read went on a camp out recently up to Wyoming. They went through an old mining town and then rode horseback about 10 miles into the wilderness where they were to spend their week's vacation. Their guide was an old Indian named Cochise. Robert's father and his brother took the boys on the trip.

Mike Calhoun went up to Lake Tahoe with Bill Carroll and Rich Lyman a while back. They waterskied, it was Mike's first time, and Rich and Bill tried working. Their jobs didn't last too long though and all three of the boys are home again. One outstanding incident of the trip was the night Mike paddled out about 100 yards in the lake and Bill Carroll came after him in another boat.

Irene Waschmirth and Jud Carter, Dana Cook and Vol Howard, and Suzie Lahti and Matt Brothers went on a pretty swingin' beach party last Sunday. They left about nine and Jud drove the group to a beach near Inverness. It was a beautiful day so they swam and fooled around on the beach.

Dana did a cartwheel so Vol immediately had to show her how well he could do one. He landed flat on his back and lay there like that for a while. It was a big surprise to him when a tremendous wave crashed right over him. Irene, Jud, Suzie and the rest thought it was a pretty good show.

Diane Traverso recently went on a trip to San Diego and Mexico. She flew with her father to San Diego and stayed there for four days and then flew once more to Mexico City. They were in Mexico City for six days and managed to shop, tour the city's historical landmarks and churches, and visit the neighboring towns. The Mexican drivers scared Diane half to death. She also went to a class at the University of Mexico with Margo Corona before she came home.

Tom White is trying to set some kind of record for having the most parties in one week. Last week he had three. At one Tina Cole was with Mike Calhoun, Nancy Gosch with Dick Stark, Marty DeMaeyer was with Tom. The music of Ray Charles prevailed as it has lately at all the gatherings.

Jeff Schwarch had a party last week also. It was strictly a no date party, but a few exceptions were Sue Henry and Squire Fridell and Diane Traverso and Denny Spitler. Other guests were Mike Cain, Darrel Courtright, Barb Smith and about 10 or so others. As usual the music of Ray Charles was most popular.

Sue Cox, can you explain the significance of "Num-Num and "Yum-Yum?"

Oh, yes, before I finish, Hester Harris, what was it that you concealed in your pocketbook (or should I say suitcase) at the T&D theater a while back!

Sandy Corbett has been living the life of Riley this summer with his numerous trips to Tahoe and Inverness. He has been spending every other week at Lake Tahoe and his week-ends at Inverness sailing boats. And if that isn't enough, he left early this week for a two-week stay in Hawaii. How lucky can one person be?

Since I am moving to Virginia Monday, this will be the last column that I will be writing. My father and I are driving across country and the rest of the family will follow when we sell our house. Next week your columnist will be Anne Lincoln. When school starts she will join forces with Tom Ferguson to write during the school year.

Anne and Tom hope to expand this column from just writing about the social activities of Orinda's teenagers, to writing about school events and any problems that might arise during the year that would be of interest.

It has been fun writing this column this summer and I am happy to have had the opportunity to do it. Thanks to all the kids that helped me gather the information, especially to Diane Traverso, who was my chief informer. Best of luck to all the kids at Miramonte this year and its been great fun being here.

Attorney Charges Court Plan Is Unrepresentative

A Lafayette attorney charged this week that the County Board of Supervisors is neglecting between 70,000 and 100,000 residents of the unincorporated area of the Walnut Creek Judicial District.

The attorney, Harold E. Mutnick, wrote supervisors that the appointment of a committee to continue to study possible establishment of a new municipal court location in incorporated Walnut Creek leaves the residents of the rest of the district without representation.

Members of the committee, appointed recently after a meeting between county and Walnut Creek city officials, are J. P. McBrien, county administrator; Second District Supervisor Tom Coll and Laverne Kimball, Walnut Creek city manager.

MUTNICK said, "Lafayette is the geographic center of the present judicial district. So long as you do not consider altering or consolidating judicial district boundaries in central Contra Costa, in keeping with the State Judicial Council's recommendations, Lafayette's case for the new site of the local court is all the stronger.

"This is especially so since Lafayette has, at present, a county building on long-term lease for which you are currently obligated—the modern sheriff's Lafayette substation building—which has been abandoned for substation use by the sheriff's department and which could be remodeled for court use an minimal additional building expense, as well as continue to house the mere administrative desk for the sheriff's office."

Mutnick recalled that in May he wrote to the supervisors asking that the municipal court, now in Walnut Creek, be moved to Lafayette, and that the letter was referred to McBrien for action.

The attorney said that McBrien answered, "Consideration will be given to your recommendations by the board of supervisors when the State Judicial Council study and report have been received."

SINCE THEN, the State Judicial Council, headed by Chief Justice Phil Gibson, completed a study of the lower court structure in the county. The council's report recommended that the Concord and Walnut Creek municipal courts be consolidated, with the court to be located in Pleasant Hill.

Upon receipt of the council report, the supervisors asked for further study of court relocation and the city-county committee was subsequently appointed.

Mutnick charged that "at the very least, Lafayette deserves representation, as the component center of the judicial district, on your court-location study group."

Unlike many of the smaller animals, the porcupine is born with its eyes open.

Loren Mowrey To Teach Real Estate Course

Loren G. Mowrey of Orinda, executive vice president, Oakland Real Estate Board, will conduct the University of California Extension Class "Trends and Factors Influencing Real Estate" beginning, September 19, Dwinelle Hall, Berkeley campus.

Announcement today came from Duncan B. Campbell, head of the Real Estate Extension Division.

A native of Modesto, California, Mowrey graduated with honors from the University of California with a Bachelor's degree in business administration. He has been a member of the faculty for the past four years.

Mowrey has been the administrative head of the Oakland Real Estate Board Corporation for the past twelve years.

Just a Sign, Maybe, But It Costs a Lot of Money

You might not think it would cost you one cent on your tax bill just to replace street and road signs damaged by vandalism, but that is true.

You also might be surprised to know that we, as taxpayers, are shelling out $250 a day for the same thing.

And this all amounts to pretty nearly $75,000 per year . . . about one cent on the county tax rate.

This is the cost of a full time repairman, tools, equipment and replacement of signs destroyed or stolen.

THE POINT IS THIS. These are your signs, just the same as the mail box in front of your house belongs to you. If somebody damages your mail box, you pay for the repairs—unless you happen to be fortunate enough to catch the culprit.

So next time you see somebody damaging a road sign, remember, it's your property that is being damaged — and you'll pay part of the bill.

There is, of course, the added danger of death or injury to drivers. Recently signs were taken away from an open 15-foot ditch which could easily have killed any driver unfortunate enough to drive into it.

VICTOR SAUER, county public works director, said that as many as 100 signs have been destroyed in one weekend, and that in one case, three signs were torn down one day, repaired the next, and the following day were sprayed with red paint by vandals.

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors feels that this problem is serious enough to warrant sending letters to all PTA units and service organizations urging parents to check on their teen-age youngsters in connection with sign vandalism.

The board and many county officials feel that most of the damage is done by youngsters. Certainly, whoever is doing it, is acting irresponsibly and is not "grown up" no matter what his age.

BUT BASICALLY, the damage is done to you. You, as a taxpayer, foot the bill. And if you don't think our public works department could use an extra $75,000 per year for road maintenance and repair, you have another thought coming.

If you ever witness a case of vandalism like this, we suggest that you do not consider it "just a prank," but that you consider the danger to motorists involved, even if you don't think of your own pocket book.

We suggest that cases of vandalism promptly be reported to the nearest police officer or the sheriff's department.

Remember . . . you pay the bill!

It's Going Down, By Golly

Every time you turn around, it seems like things cost a little more.

And as you well know, a penny here and a penny there add up to a couple of dollars at the end of the month.

And by the time the end of the year comes around, there goes wife's new dress, right out the window!

So, in these days of galloping inflation and spiraling costs, it is pleasant to look at a local district which is not upping the bill.

Congratulations are due to the Acalanes High School District Board of Trustees and to the officials of the district. They are not only holding the line, they are cutting the costs!

PART OF THE credit, it must be said, goes to the fact that the county has completed a heavy reassessment program in much of the area covered by the high school district.

But this does little to detract from the praise due Acalanes in this respect because other districts have been known to simply increase the budget, let the tax rate remain the same, and cheerfully spend the extra money.

Last year you paid an operating tax of $1.852 per $100 assessed valuation. This year it drops to $1.798. True, six cents doesn't seem like a heck of a lot, but it is six cents DOWN, not the other way around.

OF COURSE THE county tax bill is going up nine cents, so there goes mother's new dress again this year, but we can hardly blame the Acalanes district for that.

And just to make things even better, the bond retirement part of your tax bill will drop from 42 cents to 37 cents, so you are gaining another nickel there.

It is pleasant to be able to commend a district for lowering the tax rate these days. It is the kind of privilege we can exercise all too seldom.

They've Earned It, Too!

Most of us like to sit around before the fire in the long winter evenings and relax with our families.

Or sit on the patio and do the same thing during the warm summer evenings.

But you can always find a certain contingent, heading out the door and down to the nearest district office on an evening when they would probably rather be at home.

WHO ARE THESE people who are giving their time and ability for little or nothing in the way of monetary repayment? They are the members of your local school boards, fire district boards, sanitary district boards and other local agencies.

In particular Mrs. Alice McBride, William Freeman and Ernest Spiegl should be congratulated for the hundreds of hours they have given in public service.

Mrs. McBride has served on the Acalanes High School board since 1953. Mr. Freeman has served since 1950. Spiegl has been a member of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District board since 1952.

It is difficult to calculate the number of nights these dedicated people have spent away from their homes and families while they were working for us.

AND IT IS a thankless task. We who sit at home are the first to criticize when things don't go exactly to our way of thinking, but then we are not there, night after night, in that board room making decisions and weighing the matters before the district.

But somebody has to do the work, and it is people like Mrs. McBride, Mr. Freeman and Mr. Spiegl whom we have to thank.

And they have well earned our gratitude.

One Can, Twelve Fish

By DICK OSBORN

If you've ever read any of those books on tropical fish and their mating habits . . . WELL!

It just doesn't seem right to have that sort of thing going on right in the living room, and in glass tank, too.

So we decided to have nothing to do with tropical fish.

But we did build a pool in the back yard. Well, sort of in the back yard. Half the pool comes into the house. It was designed that way, although for a while there it looked like the pool would be about 400 square feet, if you included the living room floor area, that is.

ACTUALLY, THOUGH, it's amazing what you can do when you build it yourself. You will be spared all the agonizing details. Those are being saved for some medium that pays for feature articles like that. (Funny ones.)

But we started out talking about fish. It seems that once you have a pool, and some lily pads, and some rocks and lights and things, you need snails and fish to keep the water clean.

Fine, they aren't those nasty tropical things.

And goldfish are too prosaic.

So, down to the local pet shop to see about "different" fish.

Answer: Mosquito fish.

THEY'RE PRETTY small, so it figured that a dozen or so wouldn't break the old bank balance.

Do you think they'd sell me one? Not on your life.

"Just go call the Contra Costa County Mosquito Abatement District," said the pleasant lady, "and they'll bring 'em out free of charge."

Well, this seemed too good to be true. So we called.

And sure enough, they took the name and address and bright and early the next morning two big, strong men showed up, the silent one carrying a bucket with a lid on it.

"MR. OSBORN? Where's the pool?" Showed him, and silent man opened a lid while a dozen or so little fish swam merrily off under the lily pad.

"Letter for you," said the talkative man, and both partners left without a word.

The letter confirmed what I already knew. That the mosquito district will provide fish to anyone living within the boundaries of the district free of charge.

We now have fish and no mosquitoes. Thank you, district!

RAPID TRANSIT

Dear Editor:

In voting for routing of the rapid transit system along Olympic Boulevard, Jack Cummings is reported to have said: "These people built their homes near the railroad and knew it was there. A fine modern rapid transit system should not bother them as much as the railroad."

Cummings has lived in the county long enough to know that when the Sacramento Northern was a real operating railroad there were very few homes along the right of way. Most of the homes were built in the early post-war years. At this time the Sacramento Northern was obviously on the way out. Bankrupt, with almost no patronage, its franchise to operate over city streets cancelled by the city of Oakland, it ran only the one train a day required by ICC regulations.

During the Korea conflict traffic picked up for a period. With the cessation of hostilities it again dropped to the minimum pending approval of the ICC to abandon the line.

Since that time additional homes have been built. Many others have been sold to new owners. As last week's Sun points out, many a resident along the Sacramento Northern route never knew or expected operation of trains close to their homes.

The situation in Lafayette goes beyond that in Berkeley, Walnut Creek, etc. We are also objecting to type of construction, particularly to the elevated structure which would carry the line from Oak Hill Road to Reliez Station Road, a distance of a mile. But in addition we vigorously oppose the crossing of residential neighborhoods by an installation which combines the worst possible commercial use with that abhorrent of all good planners, strip zoning.

LABOR UNIONS

Dear Editor:

Noting your editorial of Friday, May 27, title "This Could Be Dangerous" also letter to the editor signed Wm. S. Simpson.

On behalf of the Central Labor Council of Contra Costa County, AFL-CIO, which is directly chartered by the National AFL-CIO as the representative of the AFL-CIO within the county, please be advised that we feel your editorial is misleading and Mr. Simpson's letter is a lot of misinformation.

Let us not be confused. The AFL-CIO as such does not organize individual members. This is done by affiliated Local Unions who answer to their various International Unions. The AFL-CIO as such does not attempt to set itself up as a bargaining agent for anyone.

I would suggest that Mr. Simpson (whose address was not given) acquaint himself with the National AFL-CIO constitution also rules governing State and Local Central Bodies who directly represent the AFL-CIO before he writes such letters for public consumption. We feel he is using the public press for one man's opinion to attempt to influence other people by distorting the facts with a mass of misinformation.

The Contra Costa County Employees Association which has been organized for years as an independent association voted by a large majority to affiliate themselves with a labor organization of their own choice which was the State, County and Municipal Employees International, AFL-CIO.

The labor movement in Contra Costa County did not solicit this affiliation or its membership, the association did this of their own free will because they evidently wished the support of the Contra Costa AFL-CIO in obtaining benefits that labor has been able to negotiate for with both public and private employers.

I would suggest that your paper and readers of your paper obtain the true facts rather than write editorials and letters on assumptions and half truths.

Hugh Gaudel, Secy.-Treas.

COUNTY, AFL-CIO

APPRECIATION

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank the voters of the Sixth Congressional District in Contra Costa and Solano counties for the generous support of my candidacy for Congressman in the June Primary election, as reported in the official and complete returns.

It is indeed gratifying to have received a majority of nearly 10,000 votes over the incumbent Republican when previous Democratic Congressional candidates trailed by 17,000 votes in the primary elections of 1956 and 1958. The 1960 official returns show a total of 70,559 for Democrat Douglas R. Page and 60.654 for Republican John F. Baldwin.

I promise a vigorous and principled campaign in the months ahead, so that the voters may choose that one of us who most nearly meets the aspirations of the citizens and residents of this congressional district.

DOUGLAS R. PAGE
Democratic candidate for Congress, 6th Congressional District.

How're Your Dental Bills? Dentists Start a Test

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Are you a member of California Physicians Service? Blue Cross? Permanente? Or carry insurance to cover hospitalization and/or medical costs?

In many of your homes, the answer is yes. The question, however, is rhetorical, leading to the next question:

Do you have dental insurance or are you a member of a dental care plan?

Your answer is "no," because, with certain minor exceptions, there has been no such plan available.

Dental profession criticized

This column pointed this out some months ago, criticizing the dental profession for lagging far behind the medical profession. Dental care takes a large hunk out of our budgets. And many people, even in suburbia, do not get the dental care needed—because it is so expensive. This column wondered when the dentists would offer a workable plan.

Well, an answer came in the mail this week from Lyall O. Bishop, DDS, First vice president of the California Dental Association Service. Dr. Bishop of Walnut Creek is a leader in his profession. Here is his letter:

Dear Mr. Silverman:

During the annual meeting of the California Dental Association in San Francisco, last April there was considerable publicity regarding pre-paid dental care.

You published an editorial in The Sun in which you discussed the subject and also made comment as to the future possibility of pre-paid dental care being made available to small groups.

'Three important factors . . . '

As you probably realize any pre-paid health plan can only be successful when based on several factors, namely: 1. "Free Choice" of doctor and the right of the doctor to reject a patient. 2. The personal doctor-patient relationship. 3. A "fee for service" to the doctor rather than being paid on a salary basis. These are the more important factors which influence the operation of pre-paid medical or dental plans.

Since you evinced some interest in pre-paid dental care, I am taking the liberty of enclosing a brochure which has just been completed by the actuarial department of California Dental Association Service and which I believe you will find very enlightening.

The dental profession has always appreciated your keen interest in our affairs, in which you have always expressed yourself very fairly.

Very truly yours,
LYALL O. BISHOP, D.D.S.

Hats off to the pioneers

First — congratulations to California dentists who have taken this progressive step. (The booklet explains that more than 90 per cent of the dentists in Northern California are C.D.A.S. dentist members).

I read the brochure carefully. The plan is certainly a step in the right direction, but is very limited in the number of people it can cover.

The plan offers pre-paid dental care protection to groups of 10 to 49 employees. The employer must pay 100 per cent of the employee's monthly cost; no provision is made for a volunteer payment or sharing the cost. "The employee himself contributes toward the financial stability of the plan through a two-third C.D.A.S. and one-third patient co-payment of the C.D.A.S. fee schedule at the time dental services are rendered."

What it will cost . . .

Two dental plans are offered, with the employer paying all of the monthly contribution:

Employee	$ 6.50	$ 4.50
Employee and spouse	13.25	9.50
Employee, spouse and children	19.25	15.50

From this you can see that both plans are expensive. In addition to above, the employee must pay one-third of each dental bill. (Orthodontia is not included, of course).

I wonder how many people would buy this plan, even if it were offered to individual families?

Thus, I am pointing out weaknesses in the dental plan. Let me emphasize, however, this is the first plan the dentists have ever offered. It is the first step. It is obviously a test. The scope and coverage will certainly be expanded in years to come.

The question is—how fast will the dentists expand the plan? I hope they will work hard to offer, at the very earliest time, a workable plan that will give broad coverage to many, many people.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Walnut Creek School District, I would like to thank you and your editorial and reporting staff for the excellent coverage and support given the recent bond election in the Walnut Creek School District.

I would also like to add a note of thanks and appreciation to all the citizens who worked in behalf of the election, and for all of those who came out to the polls and cast their vote.

Wedding Bells Are Sounding Their Cheerful Notes Almost Every Day

JO ANN MARIA MUSANTE and Lieutenant Hubert Anthony Daigle announced their engagement at a champagne cocktail party at the home of the bride elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adelmo Musante of Lafayette. The couple will be married as soon as the groom-elect completes his present course at the Army Language School in Monterey.

Jo Ann Musante Engaged To Army Lieutenant

A champagne cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adelmo J. Musante was the occasion chosen to announce the engagement of their daughter, Jo Ann Maria Musante, to Lieutenant Hubert Anthony Daigle, U.S. Army.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Acalanes, where she was a member of the Dove Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, a life member of the California Scholarship Federation, prominent in school activities, and participating in major roles in the school operettas.

While at the University of California, Jo Ann was affiliated with the Pi Alpha Sigma national journalism honorary sorority, and an active member of the Treble Clef Society. She is currently active in the work of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Junior past-presidents of the Argonaut Cubs of the NDGW, she was recipient of the Native Daughters of the Golden West's College Scholarship to the University of California. She reigned as Columbus Day Queen in Oakland in 1958, for the Italian-American Federation of the Bay area.

Tony, as the future bridegroom is known to family and friends, is the son of Commander Hubert A. Daigle, U.S.N. ret) and Mrs. Daigle, of Walnut Creek.

Lieutenant Daigle graduated from St. Mary's High School in Berkeley and the University of California with the class of January 1960. He received his bachelor of science degree in agricultural economics, and belonged to the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. He was a member of the Oski Committee and the Golden Guard (military honorary).

Lieutenant Daigle is also a graduate of the Army Quartermaster School at Fort Lee, Virginia, and presently is attending the Army Language School at the Presidio of Monterey, where he is studying French in preparation for an assignment in France after his marriage.

The bride's maternal grandparents are Mrs. Maria Muscardini and the late John Muscardini, formerly of Oakland, now of Lafayette. Jo Ann's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Musante of Oakland.

She has one brother, Dennis Musante, currently a senior at Acalanes High School.

ALAMO will be home for Mr. and Mrs. Wade Leslie Nichols who were married recently at Christ the King Catholic Church, Pleasant Hill. She is the former Sally Ann King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwin King of 1460 Arbor Lane, Alamo.
—Ted Gurney Photo.

Heirloom Veil Enhances Bride's Wedding Outfit

Christ the King Catholic Church, Pleasant Hill, was the scene of Sally Ann King's wedding to Wade Leslie Nichols on August 6.

Father De Grott performed the ceremony, for which the bride chose a gown of bouquet silk mist taffeta, appliqued in embroidered alencon lace. A crown of heirloom lace made from the lace worn on her maternal grandmother's wedding gown 56 years ago, held her finger tip veil in place.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Sonja Schultz as maid of honor; Karen and GiGi Kessler as bridesmaids.

The attendants wore nylon chiffon gowns of Nile green with dark green cummerbunds holding the full skirts in place. Their headpieces and accesories matched the cummerbunds and they carried bouquets of persimmon carnations.

Burton Bailey of Pleasant Hill stood with the groom. The ushers were Robert King, Jr., brother of the bride, Cliff Crowder, Bill Brogger and Robert Christensen.

A reception following the wedding ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. King of 1460 Arbor Lane, Alamo.

After a honeymoon trip to Northern California and Las Vegas, the newlyweds will be at home in Alamo.

Anita Cianfichi Is Bride

White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated St. Mary's Church, Walnut Creek for the nuptial mass which united Anita Cianfichi and William Carmen Buffuna on August 13.

Reverend Joseph McLaughlin performed the ritual at which the bride was given in marriage by her father, Domenic Giacnfichi.

The bride's gown was fashioned with tiers upon tiers of daintily scalloped embroidered French netting over silk taffeta, which flowed to a beautiful sweep train. Soft shirred short sleeves and high Sabrina neckline completed the gown's styling.

Delicate pearlized flowers, formed into a queen's crown wreath, held the finger tip veil of English silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a crescent corsage of Phalenopsis baby orchids, carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Rosalie Costanza was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of pure silk lilac organza, with Parisian draped neckline with soft bows at front and back. She wore a matching headpiece of flowers and veiling and carried a French colonial bouquet of demure baby roses, orchids, carnations and stephanotis.

Bill Gilardi of Dos Palos was the best man. Seating the guests were Paul Cianfichi, brother of the bride, and Ben Latorraca, uncle of the groom.

Mrs. Cianfichi was dressed in a soft blue lace sheath. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of double phalenopsis baby orchids. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Buffuna chose a gown of blue gray silk over taffeta with matching accessories. Her corsage was the same as the bride's mother's corsage.

A buffet luncheon was held at the Concord Inn following the wedding ceremony.

The groom, som of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buffuna of Los Banos, attended Los Banos High School, Fresno State College and has completed a tour of duty in the United States Army.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the just-weds will be at home in Los Banos.

RADIANT with joy, Mr. and Mrs. William Carmen Buffuna are pictured immediately after their wedding at St. Mary's Church, Walnut Creek. She is the former Anita Cianfichi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Cianfichi of Walnut Creek.—Ted Gurney Photo.

LAKE TAHOE was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Harms, who were married recently at Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Susan Jane Lavinder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lavinder of Lafayette.
—Ted Gurney Photo.

Susan J. Lavinder Is Bride of Herbert Harms

Susan Jane Lavinder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lavinder of Lafayette, became the bride of Herbert Martin Harms, son of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Harms of Livermore, on July 30.

The wedding took place at Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church, where the Reverend Richard Chiolis performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza with appliques of lace and seed pearls. A large bow accented the bustle back. The bouffant skirt flowed to a chapel train.

Her headpiece was lily of the valley with an illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and orchids.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Frederick Siegrist, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Linda Johnston, Sandra Tatum, Marchia McLure, and Mrs. Ralph Burgess. They wore gowns of hyacinth chiffon with bell shaped sleeves and bouffant skirts. Flat bows of matching material were their head decorations. They carried white baskets of pink roses and lavender.

Miss Janet Buckthal, a sorority sister of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

Roger Brown was the groom's best man. The ushers were Frederick Siegrist, Lloyd Hagemann, Phil Delluchi and Paul Jensen. Thomas Parham was the soloist.

Mrs. Lavinder wore a pink lace dress, with white picture hat and white gloves and shoes. She chose a corsage of white orchids. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Harms selected a gown of embroidered pink silk organza, with matching accessories and white orchid corsage.

A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 3082 Diablo View Road, Lafayette.

After a honeymoon to Lake Tahoe, the couple plan to make their home in Hayward.

Lafayette Club Plans Barbecue

Carroll Ranch at Rheem will be the setting September 10 for the annual barbecue to be given by the Lafayette Suburban Woman's Club. Members and their husbands will gather early in the evening for swimming, followed by cocktails and a steak dinner.

Social chairmen for the cookout are Mrs. William Witherwax and Mrs. Robert Heaton. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Sal Vallenlunga.

Members will have their first business meeting of the fall term on September 8, at which time there will be a discussion on the club's participation in La-Frantics, a variety show scheduled the last weekend in September and the first two weekends in October.

MRS. ROBERT Edward Bain, the former Kathryn Margaret O'Neal, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Clyde F. O'Neal of Walnut Creek, was married recently at Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland. —Ted Gurney Photo.

Miss O'Neal Marries

White gladioli and stock decorated the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland, for the July 19 wedding of Kathryn Margaret O'Neal and Robert Edward Bain.

The bride is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Clyde F. O'Neal of 2328 Warren Road, Walnut Creek.

Dr. Lathrup of Chapel of the Chimes performed the ceremony at which the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina length gown of white alencon imported French lace. Her veil of hand rolled white illusion lace was shoulder length.

Carrying a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis, the bride was attended by Carol and Susan Huff, first cousins to the bride.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of aqua lace, with brief veils and satin bows of the same color. They carried pink gladioli.

Aqua chiffon over taffeta was the bride's mother's choice of gown. Her flowers were two tiger lilies. Mrs. Bain, the groom's mother wore an apricot knit sheath. Her flowers were also tiger lilies.

The couple honeymooned at Inverness.

Mrs. William Brobeck Is an Ardent Volunteer—Plugs Community

Women in The Sun

Friday, August 26, 1960

By JEAN JERNIGAN

"About all I can do is plug the Therapy Center," laughed Mrs. William Brobeck of 120 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Orinda, when asked about her community activities.

Actually Jane Brobeck is an adept conversationalist and interested in many things, but her enthusiasm and interest in Therapy Center work through the Tanager Unit is undeniable.

A MEMBER for five years, she said, "I had heard quite a bit about the Tanagers and was delighted to join when I was invited. It is my personal feeling that therapy center work is one of the most worthwhile activities I could be engaged in.

"We have a lot of fun, it's true, but the girls all work very hard and most of our fun is in the course of our fund raising projects. The Tanager Unit is but one of many units formed to raise funds for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and assist in other volunteer work in aiding the center activities."

Mrs. Brobeck suggested that newcomers interested in this field of service become active in church, Parent Club or other community work where they will become acquainted with members of therapy units.

"WE TRY to be democratic, "Mrs. Brobeck" remarked, "but membership is by invitation and all too often we do not become acquainted with people who would like to serve with us because the opportunity to meet them has been lacking."

The Brobeck's lovely large home on Sleepy Hollow Road has been the scene of many a gathering in the name of community service. Their church's guilds, the Miramonte Parents' Clubs, Orinda Parents Group, Therapy volunteers and scheduled fund raising parties are just a few of the many groups who have enjoyed the hospitality of the Brobeck home.

William Brobeck is president of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association and Mrs. Brobeck pitches in with coffee, pie and/or doughnuts whenever the occasion arises.

WHEN daughter Kathy, now 17, was younger, Mrs. Brobeck was active in Girl Scout work and also served as corresponding secretary for the Miramonte Parent's Club. Now she is happily getting Kathy ready for her first year at Smith College in North Hampton Massachusetts.

Like so many suburban mothers, Jane Brobeck finds herself in the role of chauffeur frequently. Son Billy, who is nine, belongs to the Sleepy Hollow swim team, takes tennis lessons and is just generally on the go with mother providing the car power.

The entire family enjoys music. Mrs. Brobeck is interested in vocal music, Kathy's choice is the piano and Billy is studying the trombone. The family enjoys travel, but vacations are usually spent at the Berkeley Recreation Camp at Tuolomne.

THE BROBECK'S are both native Californians. She is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and he is a Stanford graduate.

Together they have shared many community endeavors in Orinda, even though she said, "Between my inertia and his business, we really don't do very much."

In between school, community and therapy center work, Mrs. Brobeck enjoys working in the garden, and "just generally enjoying my home.

Completing the scene at home are Peter, a parakeet, and Antigone, who, Mrs. Brobeck commented, "is just a plain cat, but we thought we'd glorify him a little with a classical name."

Juniors Plan Busy Season

The new corps of officers of the Junior Women's Club of Walnut Creek will start their duties in earnest soon with plans rapidly taking shape for the coming year.

The new officers are the Mesdames Edwin Robinson, president; Albert Taylor, first vice president; Laurence Smith, second vice president; Charles Claussen, third vice president; Glen Short, recording secretary; James Ninnis, corresponding secretary; Donald Tice, treasurer; Leonard Hopkins, auditor and Harry Hemstalk, parliamentarian.

The ways and means committee under the guidance of third vice president Bonnie Classen has been working lately on plans for their booth in the Walnut Festival. Other projects to follow in the club year will be a dance and a fashion show.

The first vice president, Barbara Taylor, the program chairman, has arranged for a speaker on mental health to appear before the club at the September 20 social meeting. Each social meeting, held on the third Tuesday of each month is open to the public. The club holds its business meeting on the first Tuesday evening of each month.

The juniors have recently finished a two year philanthropy project, that of furnishing the reading room for children in the new Walnut Creek public library.

Any young woman interested in joining the Juniors may obtain information by calling the president, Mrs. Robinson at YE 5-5455 or the membership chairman, Mrs. George Meikle, YE 5-3942.

Vintage 60 Date Set

Plum beautiful invitations have been sent for "Vintage 60," a select sampling of fall fashions in the mellow tones of autumn, to be held by Olive Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay at the Orinda Country Club on September 27.

Carrying out the handsome plum shades chosen by Mrs. George E. Crary and Mrs. Hyrum Gregersen, both of Oakland, for the invitational cards will be table settings of harvest flowers richly accented with the plum and grape tones so prominent in new fall fashions. Clothes to be shown during luncheon will be from an exclusive Oakland specialty shop.

Mrs. Ralph D. Hart of Oakland, branch chairman of the event. Mrs. Paul A. Wylie of Orinda and Mrs. Leslie Meredith of Piedmont are arranging the decorations.

Selecting favors for the event, which will be miniature wine bottles in keeping with the theme, are Mrs. Louis R. Pitto of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Bernard W. Langan of Oakland. Mrs. Harry E. Madden and Mrs. W. I. McDonald, both of Oakland, are co-chairman of awards.

Hostessing duties will be carried out by Mesdames Harley Carter, Seymour Dudley and John P. French, all of Oakland.

Directing the fashion showing will be Mrs. Edwin V. Nelson of Oakland and Mrs. W. A. Scholberg of Orinda. Models are announced as Mesdames Alan Bonnington of Oakland, J. Frank Coakley of Piedmont, William Cronk and R. L. Esken, both of Oakland, Frank R. Killinger of Alameda, and Frank Hagarty, Joseph Murphy and Joseph Villa, Jr., all of Lafayette.

Reservations may be secured by calling Mrs. William R. Alleman at GL 1-2538.

Junior Museum Alliance Dates September Lunch

Vacationing members of the Diablo Junior Museum Alliance will be home in time to help greet friends attending their monthly "First Wednesday" luncheon fashion show at the Red Mill on September 7.

Comparing notes on vacation spots will be Mrs. Harmon Howard, now at the Mt. Lassen area near Chester, Mrs. A. D. Lindsay who is spending a month with her family at Clear Lake and Mrs. Chas. P. Rodier currently at her mother's home on the beach at Santa Monica.

Mrs. Monroe Smith attended her class reunion in Seattle and both Mrs. Wm. F. Anderson and Mrs. Gustove Spilker of Danville are at Lake Tahoe until September 1.

Chairman Mrs. Matt Connelly, Jr., assisted by Mrs. A. D. Lindsay have announced that the September show will feature clothes from the Irene Theiss Shop in Walnut Creek. Epecially selected for suburbanite interest will be the beautiful cashmere and mohair sweaters with matching skirts in newest fall colors.

Modeling the costumes will be Mesdames William McGuire, Lloyd Kindall, Robert Wentz, Ridgeway Woodburn, C. Wadsworth White, Joseph Villa, Walter Markstein, Leonard Hooper, C. Richard Henderson, Edward Brown.

Mrs. John Floyd AT 3-2480 is accepting reservations for the luncheon.

Tau Nu Officers Have Meeting

Six members of the executive board met recently at the home of Mrs. Raymond Stewart, president, of San Antonio Way, Walnut Creek for a luncheon with a business meeting following.

The main topic under discussion was the booth at the Walnut Festival, an annual ways and means project for the Tau Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Those attending were Mesdames Mrs. Charles Erickson, vice president, Donald Williams, Emmit Laidlaw, Warren Cryer, John Evoniuk and Arthur Brittain.

Prytaneans Date Annual Dessert Bridge Party

Fall activities will begin with a bang on Thursday afternoon, September 22 when Prytanean Alums in Contra Costa County open their homes for the second annual dessert-bridge party.

The big party will benefit Ritter Hall at the University of California, Berkeley, a women's co-operative living group which is sponsored by Prytanean Alumnae Association. Mrs. Robert C. Mott of Lafayette is chairman of the event.

Busy during the summer with initial planning were the communications and publicity committee, Mesdames Robert Moore,, William Orchison, Robert Patmont, Henry Zacharias, all of Orinda; E. Donald Reichert, Ned Robinson and Thomas Taylor, all of Lafayette; William Rei of Danville; James Johnson and Barnwell Knox Jr. of Concord.

The tally committee is under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Wigren of Concord. Mrs. Ellsworth Walston of Berkeley is donating prizes.

Homes throughout Contra Costa County will be open at 1 p.m. to welcome Prytanean alums and their friends. Hostesses and co-hostesses for the benefit will be: Lafayette area, Mesdames John Burgess, Thomas Taylor, Roger Dunn, C. Mueller, Gordon Furth, John Kimball, E. Donald Reichert, Ned Robinson and Fred Seulberger;

Walnut Creek and Concord areas, Mesdames T. McKay, Robert Caldwell, William McIntosh, Vincent Malone and Wendell Parker.

Reservations may be placed with Mrs. Robert C. Mott, ATlantic 4-7453.

Flicker Unit Welcomes New Members

A festive summer cocktail party brought members of the Flicker Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center together Sunday afternoon. Members and husbands spent a pleasant afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeVito of Alamo, welcoming new members and their husbands into the Unit after they toured the center under the guidance of Mrs. Juanita Benoy, administrative director of the center.

New members welcomed include the Mesdames Earl Henry, John Morkem, and Robert Dugan of Walnut Creek; Mrs. Donald Smith, Jr., Pleasant Hill; and Mrs. Clarence Reed of Alamo.

Recently, Mrs. Robert Schroeder, Flicker president, held an indoctrination meeting at her home to explain the relation of auxiliary members to the Therapy Center for the benefit of interested members.

Mrs. Jack Gordon, publicity, explained that while members have been recessed for the summer, they will next participate in a fund-raising affair at the Walnut Festival and during the summer are engaged in making items for the all-unit Christmas Fair held in December.

Danville Women's Club Has Executive Luncheon

Mrs. David Janda, president of the Danville Women's Club, presided at an executive board luncheon meeting held recently at her home on Camino Encanto. After luncheon, officers and committee chairmen planned activities for the coming year.

Officers serving with Mrs. Janda are Mesdames Guy Albright, first vice president; Louis De Meo, second vice president; Lawrence Ferguson, recording secretary; Alfred Gorman, corresponding secretary; Jack Jensen, financial secretary; Fred Egbert, auditor; Maury Marotte, treasurer; Max Selzer, Curtis Haskell, directors; Roy Halverson, parliamentarian.

Section chairman elected for the ensuing term are Mesdames Ernest Zastrow, clubhouse maintenance; Harold Frybarger, building rentals; Martin Turkington, membership; Harry Kerlin, publicity; Albright, program; Max Selzer, decorations; Fenton Chaon, ways and means; Andrew Pricco, amenities; De Meo, hospitality; Herbert Polk, junior advisor; Herbert Wildenradt, card section; L. F. Coates, monthly bridge; Hodge Powell, bus trip; Mrs. A. W. Rees, telephone; Carolyn McMullin, art; J. T. Roberts, International affairs.

Due to the Labor Day weekend the first fall business meeting scheduled for September 1 at the clubhouse has been eliminated and instead will be held on September 15, at which time there will be a special program on UNICEF.

Phi Mu Alums Plan Bridge, Barbecue Affair

Phi Mu Alumnae of Contra Costa will join for an evening of barbecue, cards and conversation on Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Walnut Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Knight Jr.

Hostesses for the affair will be the members of the Central Contra Costa group, Joan Butterfield, president.

Assisting in arrangements are Betty Gordon, president of the Orinda - Lafayette group; and Jane Knox, Anne Kelt, Carmen Davis, all of the Central group.

Mrs. John A. Cronin Elected Chairman

Mrs. John A. Cronin is chairman of the arrangements committee for "Israel Fashions, USA," a fashion show luncheon to be held at the Claremont Hotel September 27 featuring American and Israeli fashions.

Phi Kappa Tau Plans Luncheon

The Mothers Club of Phi Kappa Tau of the University of California, will hold a luncheon meeting of the Executive Board on Thursday at the Hotel Canterbury in San Francisco.

Plans will be formulated for the bridge luncheon to be held at the Chapter House in Berkeley, early in November.

New officers who were installed at a luncheon held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Doty of Orinda in June, are Mesdames P. Evarts of San Bruno, president, A. R. Holland of Lafayette, vice president, Paul Albright of Lafayette, recording secretary, Clarence Johnson of Menlo Park, corresponding secretary, Wm. Koon of Redwood City, treasurer and Kenneth Bone of Lafayette, publicity.

Lombardy Branch Dates Annual Barbecue, Dance

A mounted knight in shining armor will greet the guests arriving at the Orinda Country Club on September 17 when Lombardy Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, holds its annual barbecue and dance.

Mrs. Maurice Anger Jr. and Mrs. Leon Paul, co-chairmen of this evening, reported on their plans at a special meeting of Lombardy members held recently at the home of Mrs. Paul.

Mrs. Anger, chairman of decorations, announced that the setting for the party is to be a baronial castle, with entrance to the pool area, where the party is traditionally held, across a moat.

The castle that will carry out the medieval theme was constructed for the Oakland Light Opera Association under the direction of John Falls for one of their productions at Woodminster Amphitheater and has been graciously loaned by him for the evening.

Royalty will be present, too. Mrs. Robert W. Field, who is a member of Lombardy Branch and one of the candidates for the annual Queen contest sponsored by Children's Hospital of the East Bay, will be an honored guest.

The dinner menu features barbecued steaks, augmented by other delicacies traditionally served to the Knights of the Round Table. Dancing will be to the music of Gordon Heche's orchestra, and there will be special entertainment during the cocktail hour.

Tickets and further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Thomas Connolly, DR 6-4222, or Mrs. James Read, CL 4-3557.

Birch Branch His Big Luau

Colorful lanterns, cork balls, fish nets, small pools, fresh gardenias and orchids decorated the gardens at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Morrison of Orinda for a Luau held Sunday afternoon.

More than 35 guests were served Luau delicacies, including poi, lomi lomi salmon and Kona coffee. Exotic drinks were served from freshly scooped out pineapples.

Guests, who wore a Hawaiian attire, were entertained by Vivien Lehula Schmidt and Lei Aloha Dancers of the Aloha Dance Studio in Danville. Proceeds from the affair went to Birch Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Among the guests were Mesdames and Messrs. Donald G. Ford, Laurence J. Horowitz, William L. Keeling, James S. Spight, Richard C. Beeler of Lafayette; Douglas Gilkey, John P. Haines, William E. Miller, William J. Nichols, David Schindler, Richard H. Sengel, Edward M. Thomas, S. T. Tool of Orinda; S. G. Jackson, C. M. Van Cott of Hayward; Louis Aber of San Bruno, Lee Busso of Oakland and Ralph A. Nemanick of Santa Clara.

20-30 Annes Plan Party

The Diablo Valley 20-30 Annes held a box social recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gerlach of Alamo.

Club members and their guests enjoyed a gala evening bidding on boxes, barbecuing and dancing. Money from the event will be used for charity work by the Annes.

Tomorrow the club will meet for a swim party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKay, Pleasant Hill.

Grand Officers To Be Honored

Grand officers of the Grand Chapter of the State of California, OES, will be honored at a reception tomorrow at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m.

They are Mary E. Palden, worthy grand matron and James L. Millard, worthy grand patron. All members of the Masonic or Eastern Star Orders are invited. Admission will be by Masonic or Eastern Star receipt.

Marlene Starling Betrothed To Gerry F. Beck

Marlene Cecilia Starling has chosen June for the date of her wedding to Gerry Franz Beck.

The engagement was announced recently by the bride elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dee Starling, Sr., of Lafayette.

Miss Starling's fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin F. Beck, also of Lafayette.

State College Courses at DVC

Five college courses for residence credit will be offered by Alameda State College at the Diablo Valley College campus this fall, it was announced today by Dr. Richard Purdy, dean of instruction at the state college.

Students planning to attend are urged by college officials to apply promptly for admission.

Advanced Language Arts in the Elementary Schools will be offered from 7 to 9:45 p.m. on Mondays. Evaluation in Education will be given from 6:40 to 10 o'clock on Tuesdays.

ON WEDNESDAY evenings two courses will be available: 1) The Short Story from 6:40 to 10 p.m. and 2) Growth and Development of the Child from 7 to 9:45 o'clock.

Curriculum Development will be offered Thursdays for prospective school administrators and supervisors from 7 to 9:45 p.m.

Instruction begins September 26. Persons wishing to enroll in any of these classes must first be admitted to Alameda State College.

Admission steps are as follows: 1) Submit an application for admission, 2) file transcripts of all college work completed, 3) complete a residence statement and 4) submit a health statement.

FOR ADMISSION, students must have completed approximately two years of college work. Registration for the courses will be held in the classrooms during the second week of instruction, October 3-7.

Any correspondence with the college should be addressed to the Dean of Admissions office at 22300 Foothill Blvd. in Hayward.

MRS. PAT BOTTONE relaxes in the lovely gardens of her home in Alamo, content in the knowledge that the beautiful landscaping which surrounds her will give pleasure as long as she lives in the home. This kind of landscaping and care, although difficult at first, will provide later summers of pleasant relaxation.

Light Opera Folk Begin 'Mikado'

The Diablo Light Opera Company has begun its second season with preparations for the production of Gilbert and Sullivan's all-time popular favorite "The Mikado." It will be presented in central Contra Costa during November.

The Diablo Light Opera Company has a membership of over 40 performers, two directors, and a community orchestra of 25 musicians.

Last season, they presented "The Pirates of Penzance" in the fall, and "The Gondoliers" in the spring.

Jim Schwartz is the musical director and is assisted by Miss Virginia Blair. The Light Opera Board of Directors consists of Chairman Harold Zuckerman of Danville, Secretary - Treasurer Clifford Egan of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Vincent Wood and Mr. Fred DeLude of Concord, Dr. Donald Poulton of Oakland, Mrs. Rudolph Ulrich and Miss Virginia Blair of Walnut Creek, and Jip Schwartz of Lafayette.

The first meeting is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. at the music room of Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

At this time, there will be a discussion of the new by-laws of the constitution, announcements of election of officers, singing auditions for specific parts in the production, and a rehearsal.

People interested in becoming members of the Diablo Light Opera Company or in joining the orchestra may write to P.O. Box 603, Walnut Creek, or call Zuckerman for information.

As an additional service as a non-profit organization, the company invites service, civic, or church groups to share in the ticket sales.

Babcock Goes Back to W.U.

William A. Babcock of 1740 First Avenue, Walnut Creek returned to the University of Washington August 15 to 26 to continue his post graduate studies at the Pacific Coast Banking School.

This will be his second of three summer resident sessions required for graduation from the school's trust division.

Native Daughters Appoint Committees; Plan Parade

Mrs. Helen Carey of Lafayette, newly installed president of Las Amigas Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West of Walnut Creek, announced the program for her term of office at the regular meeting of the organization on August 10 and appointed her committee chairmen for the year as follows:

Civic participation and Americanism, Virginia Beeston; history and landmarks, Barbara Dickenson and Lorraine Moeller; extension of the order, Elsie Sturm; Native Daughter's Home, Gladys Weill; children's Foundation, Eileen Powlesland; veterans' welfare, Aretta Hughes; welfare and philanthropy, Pearl David; publicity, Marge Woodward; parlor bulletins, Mildred Higgins; Friendship, Alice Huber and Jonnie Jean Stubblefield; Social, Constance Baer; mission restoration, Mary Ann Duarte; ways and means, Ida Kutz, Aretta Hughes and Jonnie Jean Stubblefield; education and scholarships, Veronica Garland; pioneer roster, Eleanor Hinkson; California "Herald" Magazine, Mary Ann Duarte; secret pal club, Ione Knabenshuh; Junior Native Daughters, Marge Woodward and Vera Kleckner; sewing club, Jonnie Jean Stubblefield; Admission Day celebration, Marge Woodward.

A busy round of activities has been planned for the year, beginning with a rummage sale in September, participation in time this year with a booth, the the Walnut Festival for the first annual Bazaar and Pot Luck Supper in November, together with a number of social functions slated for the FALL months.

Foremost in importance at the present time is the Parlor's participation in the Admission Day celebration to be held in the city of Richmond on September 9, commemorating the 110 birthday of the state. The theme for this year's celebration parade is "The Best Days of California," with the local parlor portraying the Spanish era with colorful Spanish costumes of vari-colored satin.

Joining with them in the line of march will be Walnut Creek Parlor of the Native Sons and the "Suburbanette" Drill Team of the Junior Native Daughters, who hold the title of State Champion Drill Team of the Order for the past three years, as well as the 1959 West Coast Junior Girls' Drill Team Championship title.

Also accompanying the local Parlors in the Richmond parade will be the Walnut Festival, representing the City of Walnut Creek.

Farm Bureau Women To Organize for 1960-61

Mrs. J. C. Murphy of Brentwood, new county chairman, will assemble Contra Costa Farm Bureau Women's officers, committee chairmen and group leaders next Friday at 10 a.m. at Farm Bureau Hall, 5554 Clayton Road, Concord.

Contra Costa Farm Bureau Women will be served during the 1960-61 season by the following officers: Mrs. Murphy, chairman; Mrs. Truman Crockett of Oakley, vice-chairman; Mrs. Harry Hobbs of Knightsen, recording secretary; Mrs. Dante Littorno of El Cerrito, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joe Silva of Diablo, treasurer.

The committee chairmen are Mrs. Herbert P. Hammond of Walnut Creek, publicity; Mrs. Lorens Foard of Danville, 4-H clubs; Mrs. Paul Somerhalder of Knightsen, citizenship; Mrs. Fred Donahue of Danville, health and safety; Mrs. Sigrid Webber of Lafayette, education.

MRS. EUGENE Day of Walnut Creek, international relations; Mrs. Neil Sterud of Oakley, fairs; Mrs. Olive Gates of Lafayette, legislation; Mrs. George W. Fox of Walnut Creek, by-laws and resolutions.

The Extension Service will be represented by Home Advisors Mary Ryon Williams and Anna M. Pleasant.

The luncheon will be potluck; the members will greet old and new co-workers, discuss plans and hear about 1960-61 projects from Home Advisor Williams.

Farm Bureau Women won a blue ribbon and $100 at the recent Contra Costa County Fair in the Farm Women's Organizations' competition.

THE WINNING booth showed rug weaving and the refinishing and upholstering of furniture, etc.

Working with Mrs. Sterud were Mesdames Murphy, Crockett, Somerhalder, Hobbs, Day and Fox.

"Farm Bureau Women will cater a Hunt Breakfast for a flying squadron of the Farm Bureau Federation. They will hunt in towns and orchards of Contra Costa for instant members in a one-day bring - 'em - back - alive drive," said Mrs. Murphy.

Press Previews Rheem Bowl Today; Opening for Public Is Tomorrow

Contra Costa County's newest bowling center, the million-dollar Rheem Center Bowl, will be given a bang-up press preview today with Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Glenn Anderson as honored guests, flanked by State Senator George Miller of Richmond, Mayor Frank Marshal of Walnut Creek, and members of the Board of Supervisors.

Lt. Gov. Anderson will close the switch to throw the electronic apparatus of the Bowl into action to mark the official opening of the center.

THE DOORS of the Rheem Center Bowl will be opened to the public at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Lt. Gov. Anderson, who motored to Rheem from the state capital for the occasion, has had a rapid political rise from mayor of the City of Hawthorne in southern California at the age of 27, through assemblyman, to his present position. He is known for his enlightened legislation on highways, fair employment and aid to needy children.

The new Rheem Center Bowl at Moraga Road and Rheem Boulevard is located within four minutes of residential Orinda and Lafayette. It is planned as an all-age and all-group center, open 24 hours a day. There are four acres of free parking area.

THE CENTER is housed in a new building especially designed to take advantage of the latest developments in bowling centers.

The facilities center in the 24-lane bowling area with equipment the latest from the American Machine Foundry Company. Included are automatic pin spotting devices, Teleview score boards, automatic hand dryers and ball returns.

A fully furnished playroom is available for child care, where mothers can park their children while improving their games or taking part in women's league play.

Acalanes Stands Chance For Foothill Grid Title

By ERWIN MATTSON

Vacation time is rapidly drawing to an end and while the opening school bell won't ring until September 6, the freshmen will get their orientation on September 1, which is the time football practice will be under way on the prep gridirons.

Gridiron—that's a classical name for grass-covered practice and game areas which are a far cry from the dirt fields of old.

In the Foothill Division a new member comes into the circuit with Alhambra High of Martinez as the entrant. Alhambra was formerly in the Eastbay Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League, but along with other schools has grown rapidly in size to where it is well over 1000 in enrollment.

Alhambra has become a member of the Foothill League this year, which operates on its own as a separate unit for the first time. Up to now it has been a Foothill Division as part of the D.V.A.L.

Squads will be reporting for gear issue and practice drills this next week, and the eternal question is "who is the favorite?"

In the Foothill League, the dopesters pick Piedmont and Acalanes as the favorites. Piedmont, as defending champion, has a number of returning lettermen and looks to be the team to beat.

Acalanes has a good nucleus, and how far the Dons go will depend to a large extent on whether they come up with enough reserves to hold down the fort.

In the Contra Costa Division of the D.V.A.L. it looks to be a battle between Mt. Diablo High of Concord and Pittsburg. Diablo won last year, but graduation hit a heavy blow.

Pittsburg has a new coach and a lot depends on how well the Pirates adapt. If the players are as "hungry" for a championship as the town is, pick Pittsburg by a landslide.

In the Eastbay Division, look for Livermore to win. Livermore is like Alhambra—becoming too big for the circuit—and soon it, too, will have to move. Crockett and Albany figure to be battling for the runner-up spot.

Speaking of football, I had a pleasant time Sunday watching the '49ers tangle with the Philadelphia Eagles. I saw Norm Van Brocklin in action as a quarterback for the Eagles.

He was the quarterback at Acalanes back in 1940-41-42, when the school first opened, and was a standout at Oregon, where he became an All-American. In pro ball he has been a standout and All-Pro, as well as "most valuable" many times.

On his showing Sunday he still is among the best, if not THE best in pro ball despite his old age of 34. One thing certain is that he is the best long passer in the business and can probably pick a defense to pieces as well as anyone.

Rumor has it he may go to coaching next year. He looks to have a lot of ball left in him—in fact, seeing him Sunday after the game, he looks better than I have seen him in several years. Trim and athletic, he is alert and full, as always, of that competitive desire which coaches are always seeking.

At Acalanes, he was always known as Stub, and he is still referred to by that name by his many friends.

Football has always been his first love, and it is there he made his athletic name. Chances are he could have been a big league baseball player, as he had a rifle arm and a good eye at the bat.

He played a good game of basketball—in fact, in his first league basketball game he tanked a nifty 34 points against Alhambra of Martinez.

To see such a competitor grow and develop is one of the finest rewards of coaching.

Ski Club Will Hold Annual Beach Party

The Oakland Ski Club will have its annual beach party Sunday at Stinson Beach in Marin County.

Chairman Jim Moore has planned several contests.

A special event will be the preliminary judging to choose a queen to represent the club during the winter months.

LaMorinda Pop Warner Team Is Taking Shape

The LaMorinda Thunderbirds, newest entry in the Pop Warner League's Greater San Francisco Football Conference, moved one step closer to the first game of the season this week.

Head Coach Pete Villa announced that the squad has been trimmed to 35 top young football players. He explained he wants a further look at some new prospects and that some future cuts may be made.

THE THUNDERBIRDS represent Moraga, Lafayette and Orinda, but there are several players on the squad from Walnut Creek and Danville.

In their initial season in the league, the Thunderbirds will play their first two games at home on the Miramonte High School field. They open at 1:30 p.m. September 18 against the Millbrae Lions and follow up on September 25 against the Castro Valley team.

Meanwhile, Villa reported, the squad will continue its workouts from 5 to 7 p.m. daily on the Miramonte field. The final roster should be announced within the next week, he said.

The present Thunderbird roster, according to Villa, includes the following players:

ENDS—Tom Archer, Scott Babcock, John Baitz, Pat Dewing, Joel Perisno, Don Texdahl and James Tucker.

Tackles—Dennis Finn, Pat Hadley, Bob Macarrio, Dave Robinson, Warren Webster.

Guards — Jeff Campbell, Bob DeGraffinreid, Jack Isola, Brian Moriarity, John Poole, Jim Strello, Steve Totton.

Centers — Rickey Anger, Dave Fleuti.

QUARTERBACKS — Bill Cunningham, Greg LaGrande, Pat Pease.

Halfbacks—Harold Bond, Steve Bradley, Doug Davies, Carl Edred, Steve Hair, Brian Madden, Dave Texdahl, Gary Woodcock.

Fullbacks — Doug Dermit, Ron Maccario.

Dathe Wins Game Honor

Walt Dathe, one of the outstanding performers on last year's Pleasant Hill High School football team, was named the outstanding lineman of Saturday's sixth annual 20-30 East-West All-Star game in Kezar Stadium.

Dathe played guard for the East team, which took a sound drubbing at the hands of the West Bay squad, 36-6.

He won the top lineman's honor by a vote of the working press at the game. All proceeds from the contest go to 20-30 children's charities.

Another central county guard, Mike Hair of Las Lomas, also saw action for the East squad.

Sanitary Board Reviews Plans For San Ramon

The San Ramon watershed was reviewed by directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District at a meeting last Thursday night.

The district is considering extending its trunk line, which now ends at Freitas Road in Danville, to the vicinity of Fostoria Road in the San Ramon area, to provide service to the Aerojet General Nucleonics plant.

Board president Richard Mitchell recommended the district adopt a policy of notifying directors when controversy arises relative to condemning easements.

MITCHELL said a majority of directors should review such sites to alleviate fears of residents and to promote good will.

Mitchell and the district manager, Gerry Horstkotte, will attend a meeting Sept. 7 in San Francisco of the federal and state water pollution boards.

Horstkotte reported the outfall sewer will be ready for testing in September and the Orinda and Moraga pump stations will be completed near the first of September.

HE SAID the trunk line along Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette would reach Mt. Diablo Boulevard at the Red Mill by Nov. 8. Estimated date of completion is Nov. 22, he said.

Horstkotte requested $2500 to replace a sewer line in Acacia Road, Orinda, which he said had been crushed. The line was installed in 1950.

3 Residents To Conference

Three representatives of the Prudential Insurance Company, living in the area, will attend the company's Ordinary agencies training conference to be held at the Empress Hotel in Victoria, B.C., next week.
ber 1.

The local delegates will be Thomas C. Peek, 116 Donald Drive, Moraga, manager of the Oakland agency which bears his name; Thomas E. Fish, 964 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, special agent for the Peek agency; and John E. Corcorran, 15 Parkland Drive, Walnut Creek, division manager for the Howard Miller agency of Oakland.

Midsummer nights' fun with outdoor lighting

There's no place like home for real summer fun when outdoor lighting turns the garden into a magic place for a party.

The softly lighted terrace for dancing . . . the floodlighted barbecue for hamburgers at midnight . . . the charm and safety of lighted paths and borders . . . are sure-fire persuasion for fun at home.

And you'll be pleasantly surprised at the low cost of outdoor lighting. Why not call your electrical contractor today for suggestions and estimates?

Teen-agers and area residents have been making sure they are in the running for the RCA portable television set, the two Webcor hi-fi record players and the six transistor radios offered during Broadway's "Back-to-School" celebration, which runs through this Saturday, August 27.

George Webster, president of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "All you have to do is drop into one of the Broadway stores and fill out one of the entry blanks. No purchase is necessary."

He added, "The winning names will be drawn during the Broadway Teen-age Record Hop, Friday. Ted Randal, the popular disc jockey, will make the presentations."

The contest is aimed at teen-agers, but prizes are not limited to them. A good thing to remember is that youngsters under 16 must be accompanied by parents while filling in the entry blank.

Although the African violet was first commercially developed about 1923 in Los Angeles, it has spread in fame and popularity until today it's recognized as the most popular house plant from coast to coast. Any gardener who has been bitten by the "violet bug" can tell you why growing these plants is such a rewarding hobby.

Its' 'Back To School' Time

What to Wear Is Problem For Some High Schoolers

While there is no clear-cut answer to whether high school boys this fall will go for Ivy styles, Continental concepts or a melange of both, you can count on one thing—they'll present a neater appearance because they're choosing more appropriate clothes.

The lack of clearly defined style preferences is emphasized not only by variances in schools in the same communities, but also by diverse style selections by different segments within a single school, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

For example, many of the high schoolers prefer their sports jackets and suits styled on classic natural-shoulder lines. But these same young fellows go for Continental-style slacks and sweaters with equal enthusiasm.

OF COURSE, there are some schools and some areas where, in order to be "in," the students are either 100 per cent Ivy or completely Continental. But, governed by local mores or fads, the average teen-ager is less apt to be as "purely Ivy" as his older brother in college or as "completely Continental" as his dad may be.

Most interesting is the trend to a "more gentlemanly" appearance on the past of most high school youngsters. This stems partly from the adoption of higher standards of student dress at many schools.

The willingness of the youngsters to go along with the dress-right dicta indicates that the lads' overwhelming desire to "conform" has now been channeled in the right direction.

With these thoughts in mind, here are some of the specifics that will set the high school fashion pace this fall.

IN SUITS, natural - shoulder styling dominates the picture. Some of them are in "authentic classic" detailing, while others are spiced with a dash of Continental seasoning. The latter may have shorter jackets, no breast-pockets and lapel button-holes. They may also feature either semi-peak or softly rounded clover-leaf lapels. Angled "hacking" pockets are another familiar Continental feature.

Trousers of the Continental suits are similar in detail to the slacks of similar origin. Many are self - supporting and have angled front pockets, as opposed to the Ivy types which are worn with a belt and have relatively vertical pockets.

The favorite shades in both styles are the olive blends. These range from dark-medium to medium in tone. Grays, blues and browns—in that order—follow in popularity.

Sports jacket models are identical to those found in the suits. However, in the tweedy coats, look for more bold patterns such as full-scale glen plaids and pronounced checks. Solid-color flannel blazers are a favorite of Ivy partisans and many of these classic jackets will be paired with patterned slacks.

Sweaters have come back in a big way with teen-agers—crew-necks and high-V necks for the Ivies, shawl collars, cardigans, fancy knits and novelty designs for the Continentals.

IN OUTERWEAR garments, styles overlap from one group to the other. Starting with unlined waist-length jackets for early autumn, through mid-lengths and three - quarter - lengths for cold weather, the choice is terrific. Wash-wear poplins vie with corduroys, loden - types, meltons, blanket - types and reversibles. Look for science-fiber linings and liners and, if so inclined for parka-type hoods and large bulky knit collars.

In dress shirts, the Ivy choices are button-down collar oxfords, tab collars, pinned round collars and tabless-tabs. Short and medium point spread collars are just right for the Continental outfits, as well as the newly revived angled front cutaway spreads.

In sports shirts, the collar choices are the same and there is also a more frequent blending of the styles worn. Keep an eye peeled for the new printed patterns in both neat and bold motifs. Madras and madras-types are still very popular, as are the classic plaids and checks. The big colors are olives, golds and multi-hued combinations. Vintage tones are among the new accent shades.

BE SURE to see the new pullover cut-and-sewn shirts. Long sleeve knits in an astounding range of styles are a leisure-time high spot, too.

Wear plain-toe and wing-tip cordovan bluchers for dressy Ivy outfits and select the tapered-toe Italian models for Continentals. Loafers in both varieties are practically a "must" in any teen-ager's wardrobe. "Dirty bucks," olive suedes and chukkas also get the young vote. Newest kick is wearing yellowish tan "lineman" shoes with wedge rubber soles and bright metal eyelets in place of "beat-up tennis shoes" for knocking around.

Top Jockey Is M.C. for Teen-Age Record Hop

The East Bay's top disc jockey, Ted Randal of KEWB, will be master of ceremonies at the Broadway Shopping Center's Teen-age Record Hop, tonight, from 8 to 10 p.m., in front of the Lucky Store.

There will be dancing in front of the store and in the street.

A portable television set, two hi-fi record players and six transistor records will be given away to those lucky ones whose names are drawn.

AND FREE records will be distributed by Randal.

"It will be a good time for all; a swinging time, you might say," said George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Committee.

He added, "It's part of our Broadway - Goes - Back-to-School tomorrow, August 27.

"Cokes, orangeade and doughnuts will be served, and there will be chaperones.

"WE WANT the young folks to have fun. After all, Back-to-School time is for them," Webster added.

Randal's reputation as a top platter man has been made over more than a decade.

Here's what his bosses at KEWB say:

"Ted's uncanny knack for picking hit records is no great mystery. His ability is the result of 12 years of commercial radio experience, during which his chief concern has been music.

"RANDAL HAS been disc jockey, announcer, sportscaster, program director, writer and producer.

"He has constantly had San Francisco's top-rated popular music show on both radio and television.

They noted that on the dramatic side Ted has organized three community theaters, participating as actor, director, stage designer, publicity director, lighting director, make-up artist and casting director.

He has had major roles in the following well-known plays — The Hasty Heart, The Man Who Came to Dinner, A Bell for Adano, Playboy of the Western World, Harvey, The Moon Is Blue, The King of Hearts.

HE HAS released his own records, including "What Is a Disc Jockey" and "What Is a Hit," which were both written and narrated by him.

Those two have been played on the American Bandstand, and have been played faithfully by thousands of disc jockeys in the nation.

Randal has personally interviewed more than a hundred top stars, including Monica Lewis, Ella Fitzgerald, Debbie Reynolds, The Lancers, Vic Damone, Johnny Mathis, Billy Daniels and Billy Williams, Frankie Laine, Tommy Sands, Elvis Presley, Gene Krupa, etc.

East Seal Group Issues New Brochure

Duane J. Holiday, executive director of the County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, announced that a brochure on sub-contracts has been prepared by the Easter Seal Workshop Committee. Printed copies are now ready for distribution.

The brochure, which will be mailed to local manufacturers, contains information demonstrating how sub-contracting with sheltered workshops for the handicapped is "good business," he said.

Temporary assemblies, special work, packaging, reclamation, addressing and mailing, hand finishing and folding, sorting parts, fabricating models, gluing or stapling materials are sometimes nuisance jobs that can most effectively be accomplished by using the services of a sheltered workshop, the brochure states.

Listed are the names of 17 manufacturers, who have contracted with the Easter Seal Sheltered Workshop, and have been satisfied with results.

Members of the Workshop Committee assisting in the preparation of the brochure include Major White, chairman, Miss Alice Brandt, Miss Ruth Wuerth, Don Crawford, Melvin Hardin, Otto Palombo and Claude Vickery.

Meridian Area Of Boy Scouts Will Be Divided

Meridian District is being divided, and new boundaries are being established for the Camp Herms, Berkeley-Albany, and San Pablo Bay districts of Mt. Diablo Council as the result of recommendations adopted by the executive committee of the council this week. Effective date of the change was Thursday.

A committee to study the pros and cons of district realignment was appointed by Duncan Knudsen, council president, at the June meeting of the executive board.

THE COMMITTEE, which met on July 12 and August 9, consists of Al E. Jurs, chairman; Rawlings S. W. Simon, Joseph DeMaria, Claude Samples, William E. McLain, J. F. Wellington and Robert Giusti.

Resulting from the realignment of boundaries, council officials expect to provide more efficient service to the sponsoring institutions within the respective districts.

William Streiber will be assigned as district executive to the Berkeley area; all of Albany becomes part of the Camp Herms district. Executive staff members are still to be assigned to the Camp Herms district and the two new districts formed by the division of Meridian.

UNDER THE new organization, one district will comprise the Scouting institutions in the Orinda, Moraga and Lafayette areas; another will take in the San Ramon, Danville, Alamo, Walnut Creek and Sun Valley communities.

San Pablo district will transfer their El Cerrito area to Camp Herms district and, as mentioned above, Albany will become part of the Camp Herms area.

Native Sons Give Check to Lynn School

Roy Hammond, president of Parlor 315, Native Sons of the Golden West, and dance chairman Charles Mannie presented a check to Jerry R. Haws, president of the board of the Lynn School for Retarded Children.

This was the fifth annual dance.

"The Native Sons and the Lynn School wish to thank all who purchased tickets or helped out in any way," said Mannie.

Girls Like Smoky Colors, Varied Shoe Textures

In high school hallways or on grade school playgrounds this fall, the prettiest feet will be setting the pace in the smoky colors and varied textures of new leather shoes.

Today's fashion-conscious school girls want shoes that keep in step with the latest fall skirts, suits and sweaters that feature slubbed woolens, tweeds and knits.

New shoes that show texture interest by combining smooth and sueded or brushed leathers in the favored, particularly in the season's reds, browns and greens, according to Shoe Fashion Service of eather Industries of America.

THE TEEN-AGE favorite, casual flats, show tone-on-tone interest through the mixing of grained leather with suede leather.

Moss green is interpreted as a deep rich tone in suede, and has a glossy hue in smooth leather on the same shoe.

The latest fad interest in casual and school shoes for both preteens and teens involves an overlay of contrasting colored leather in patch design on vamps and saddles this fall.

Saddle oxfords take on a patchwork quilt effect in bright color, or have a harlequinesque effect around the saddle.

HIGH SCHOOL girls prefer the slim tapered toe that points the way to fashion in dressy pumps and casuals alike.

Special accent on toes is seen in the use of contrasting leather on new fall pumps.

Heels, curved-in to appear higher than they actually are, range from an inch to an inch and a half.

Real patent leather in gleaming black elegance, continues to be the big party favorite among teen-age girls.

PARTY shoes set on light springy leather soles put an extra lift into a lindy.

All-weather boots go high and low to make a hit with the teenage set. They range from the ankle to mid-calf.

Color catches the eye of younger girls, who favor luster skimmers, shells and ghillies.

Real black patent leather takes its place of honor as the traditional dress favorite for birthday parties and special events.

This fall, the young set prefers the skimmer or slip-on patent leather shoe with detail in a vamp bow or buttons instead of straps.

EAST Indian print wins fashion honors in a young, roll-sleeved shirt of cotton satin. By Lady Manhattan in "Everglaze" "Minicare" fabric.

Citizens Against Proposition 15 Rally Statewide

Stating that Proposition No. 15 would destroy the federal plan of representation now inherent in the legislature, two state leaders have announced the formation of a citizens committee to defeat Proposition 15, the senate reapportionment measure on the November ballot.

They are J. F. Sullivan Jr. of San Francisco, state chairman, and Charles F. Gould of Los Angeles, general chairman for southern California.

Among the key members of the statewide committee are Douglas R. Page of Walnut Creek; Phillip Knox Jr. of Alamo; Russell M. Koch of Pleasant Hill; and Howard H. Jewel of Orinda.

Robust Oleander Can Be Tamed by Growing in Tubs

Here's the gardener's checklist for this week:

Try taming the robust Oleander by growing it in a tub. On a sunny deck it will give a real show of color.

Keep pinching Chrysanthemums to encourage bushy growth. Disbud side buds if you would have larger blooms on top.

The long canes of blackberry that bore fruit this year should be cut out if you haven't done it yet. New canes should be loosely wound around trellis.

Set out Bird of Paradise this month for exotic bloom through fall and winter.

Plant natives this month and next and keep them watered until winter rains take over. After the first year, few of them need any attention from the hose.

School Bus Drivers Will Be Instructed

Bus drivers for public and private schools will receive instructions on safe driving from California Highway Patrol Officer Herbert Lessley, Tuesday morning at Diablo Valley College, Concord.

Charles Ferrell of the county superintendent's staff, who is assisting, with the program, said that drivers for private and parochial schools, as well as the county's public schools, are urged to attend.

Between 9 a.m. and noon the following program will be presented: School Bus Activities in Contra Costa County, Rules and Regulations, "Full-Scale Test of Median Barriers" (a film) and question and answer period.

Ferrell said it is important that both former and new school bus drivers attend.

Shrubs With Restraint Are Helpful for Spacing

Space is often a factor in gardening. Therefore, according to the California Association of Nurserymen, shrubs that show restraint are of particular value. It is possible to plant a miniature shrub in an area one-tenth as large as that required for the normal sized variety.

For a neat, slow-growing, evergreen Raphiolepis has attained quick popularity. And no wonder! It is a perfect foundation plant. Because of its slow growth habit, Raphiolepis remains low and needs no pruning for many years.

THE INTRODUCTION of the Pink India Hawthorn variety in 1938 started Raphiolepis on its climb to fame. Light pink flowers in high crowned clusters cover half of the shiny bronze-toned foliage from the first part of the year through spring. There is a scattering of bloom throughout the rest of the year. The exquisite flowers are followed by clusters of blue-black fruits.

Raphiolepis should be selected for the way you want to use them — some grow naturally flat, while others are more upright. C.A.N. nurseries have both types.

Dwarf Gardenia is a diminutive form of its "big brother"; but with all of the beauty and fragrance of the bigger sorts. The small blooms are profuse in summer. Dwarf Gardenia is tub-adaptable; or excellent for foreground planting in the sun where the miniature, beautifully formed and perfumed flowers may be fully appreciated. Dwarf Gardenias are ideal for making leis, flower arrangements or corsages.

THERE ARE a number of low-growing coniferous evergreens — both in prostrate and upright forms. Among the yews, firs, arborvitae, spruces, pines and junipers (to name the most frequently used conifers) are many varieties which show restraint.

For under a window . . . for tubs . . . for small lots . . . for a view which you do not want to mar . . . there is a coniferous evergreen which will fit such requirements for modest height. A C.A.N. nurseryman will be happy to tell you which ones are best in your landscape situation.

Check your C.A.N. nursery for the many LOW growing shrubs that are TOPS in performance.

Bus Turnout Hearing is Wednesday

Recommendations for bus turnouts which may be required to meet future needs of commuters to San Francisco and Oakland from Contra Costa communities on Sign Route 24 (State Route 75) wil lbe made at a State Public Utilities Commission hearing Wednesday in San Francisco.

Commission engineers will make their report and recommendations at the hearing on "location, design and adequacy of bus turnouts along Sign Route 24 in Contra Costa County", according to official notices.

Present to hear the recommendations will be commuter representatives, and bus line officials. Greyhound Lines provides commuter service to Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Concord and other communities on "Route 24."

Also involved is American Buslines, Inc., which moves over this route to some points.

Planting Raised Beds in Garden Is Proven System

There was a time, presumably, when gardeners did all their gardening at ground level; but don't ask us when. So far as we know, the art of planting in raised beds is almost as old as gardening itself.

There is much to be said for this approach, and it bears the stamp of approval of most California Association of Nurserymen members. First off, for obvious reasons, raised beds can save the day when drainage is poor and they should be used invariably in such situations.

SECONDLY, they put plants up where we can see them and permit some to cascade color so appealingly that temptation is strong to grow every blooming thing in a bed that's raised.

We like the latter aspects of raised beds and are constantly on the lookout for a new shrub that likes to tumble downward. One that does and you can count on it fine foliage to catch the eye is the little member of the lotus family called Parrotts Beak. You see it in hanging baskets at many a nursery. We'd take the foliage alone even if it didn't offer pleasant red early summer flowers.

Ground Morning Glory, a trailing (but not rampant) member of the morning glories, thrives in a sunny raised bed and trails delicate blue flowers through summer. Trailing Point Reyes Ceanothus will fill a bed and spill over. Its ease of culture, glossy foliage and lovely late spring blooms make it a candidate for any man's garden.

ANNUALS AND perennials offer countless possibilities for showering color from a raised bed. Among others, we like the yellow locks of Perennial Alyssum, the lovely blue of Trailing Lobelia and the myriad clear colors of single petunias.

Don't think of trailers only, however, when planning and planting a raised bed. Consider such an area as your own special showcase

Clothes Help You Make It Into 'New World'

How valuable is a good appearance to the young man crossing over from the school world to the business world?

This question was highlighted recently at the annual meeting of the nation's top high school and college business students.

Meeting in Chicago under the auspices of the Future Business Leaders of America, the students adopted a 10-point code of ethical business practice.

INDICATING the importance of good appearance, Point 8 of the student code declares: "I will dress and act in a manner that will bring respect to me and my employer."

The Future Business Leaders of America, whose 2200 chapters and 54,000 student members throughout the country cooperate with local business men, has discovered that personal and classroom "courses" in proper business wear and good grooming pay handsome dividends to the present and future careers of the young American business man.

For the past two years, the FBLA has stressed the importance of appearance in the business world through a "dress right" student guidance program, carried out with the cooperation of the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

With the aid of educational materials such as film slides, charts showing proper color combinations, appropriate dress booklets and the like, students belonging to this organization have been studying the ABCs of proper business wear and good grooming along with their regular business courses.

OUTGOING FBLA president Roy S. Peters Jr. of Southwest Oklahoma State College, Weatherford, Oklahoma, said that, "Many students forget the importance of appearance in getting and keeping a job.

Two Residents Get New Posts At St. Mary's

Two administrative appointments at St. Mary's College were announced today by Brother S. Albert, F.S.C., president.

Max Widmer of Walnut Creek has been named controller of the college, and Edward Aszklar of Lafayette has been promoted to superintendent of buildings and grounds.

He succeeds August E. Zipse, who will be associated with private enterprise in the San Francisco area.

Aszklar, at St. Mary's since 1949, was formerly an assistant in the maintenance department. A long time resident of the central Contra Costa county area, he was in the building business before joining the college staff.

'Back-to-School' Clothes Need Plenty of Care

Want that good looking back-to-school wardrobe to look as neat at prom time as it did in September? Follow these clothing care hints offered by the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

1. Use shaped wooden hangers for your suit and sports jackets.

One of the prime requisites of a well-fitted suit or sports jacket is the manner in which in hugs the neck. It should not buckle or bulge at the collar-bone.

IN ORDER to accomplsh this correct fit, designers spend endless hours improving their patterns and tailors carefully "work" the cloth.

All of these efforts can be negated by repeatedly using the back of a chair for a hanger or by using the wire hangers that cleaners use to deliver garments.

2. Use trouser hangers that suspend slacks and suit pants by the cuffs. These help shed wrinkles and prevent the unsightly cross-creases made by hanging across a hanger bar.

3. Do NOT wear the same jacket, slacks or suit repeatedly. The fabrics are woven of fibers that require "rest." Most good cloths will return to press and shed wrinkles if given a day or two on proper hangers between wearings.

4. IF A garment should get soiled or spotted, have it cleaned as quickly as possible. Do not allow the stain or spot to "set." If possible, go over the spot immediately with a clean rag dipped in warm clear water.
